Spirited Trojans proclaim that Trojans have soul.

Throughout Triton many objects hold meaning

Sectional spirit ran high as demonstrated by Greg Craft and his decorated Trojan fan truck.

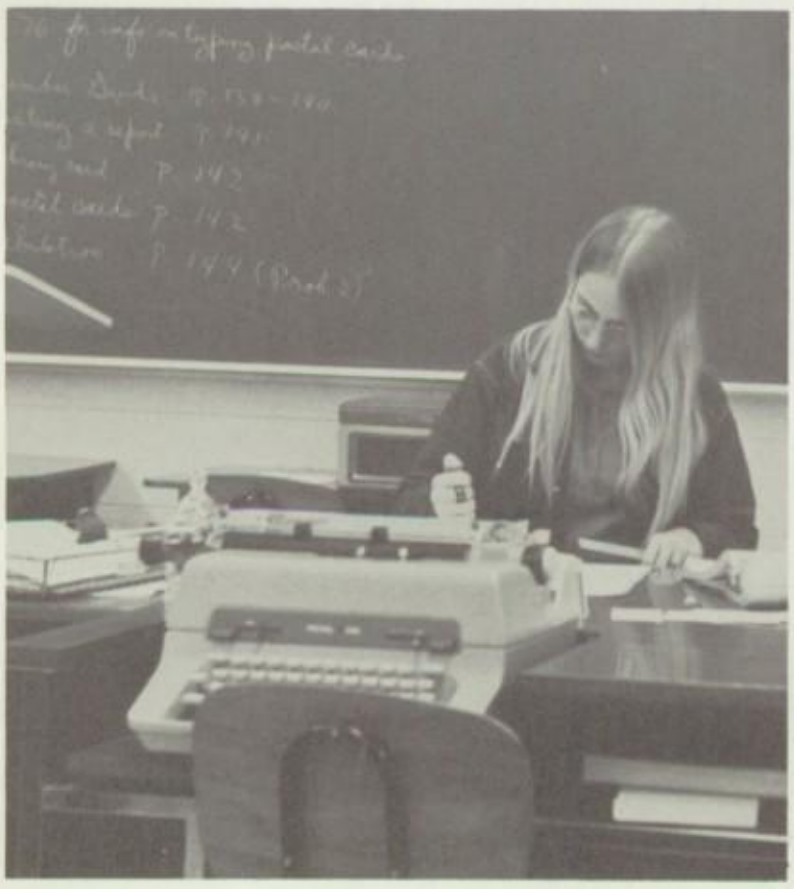
United as one and urged on by the Varsity cheerleaders the Trojan Pep Block is ready to tear up the opposing Lancers.

Four small numbers show another Trojan victory on the scoreboard.

Principals are human too, but who do we have more to fear than our fellow man?

Standing poised, Donna Fisher awaits the judge's final decision in the 1972 Junior Miss Pageant.

With the precision of an artist Char Mason solemnly prepares a rough draft of the '72 Delta cover.



Lori Young works in solitude to finish her bookkeeping assignment.

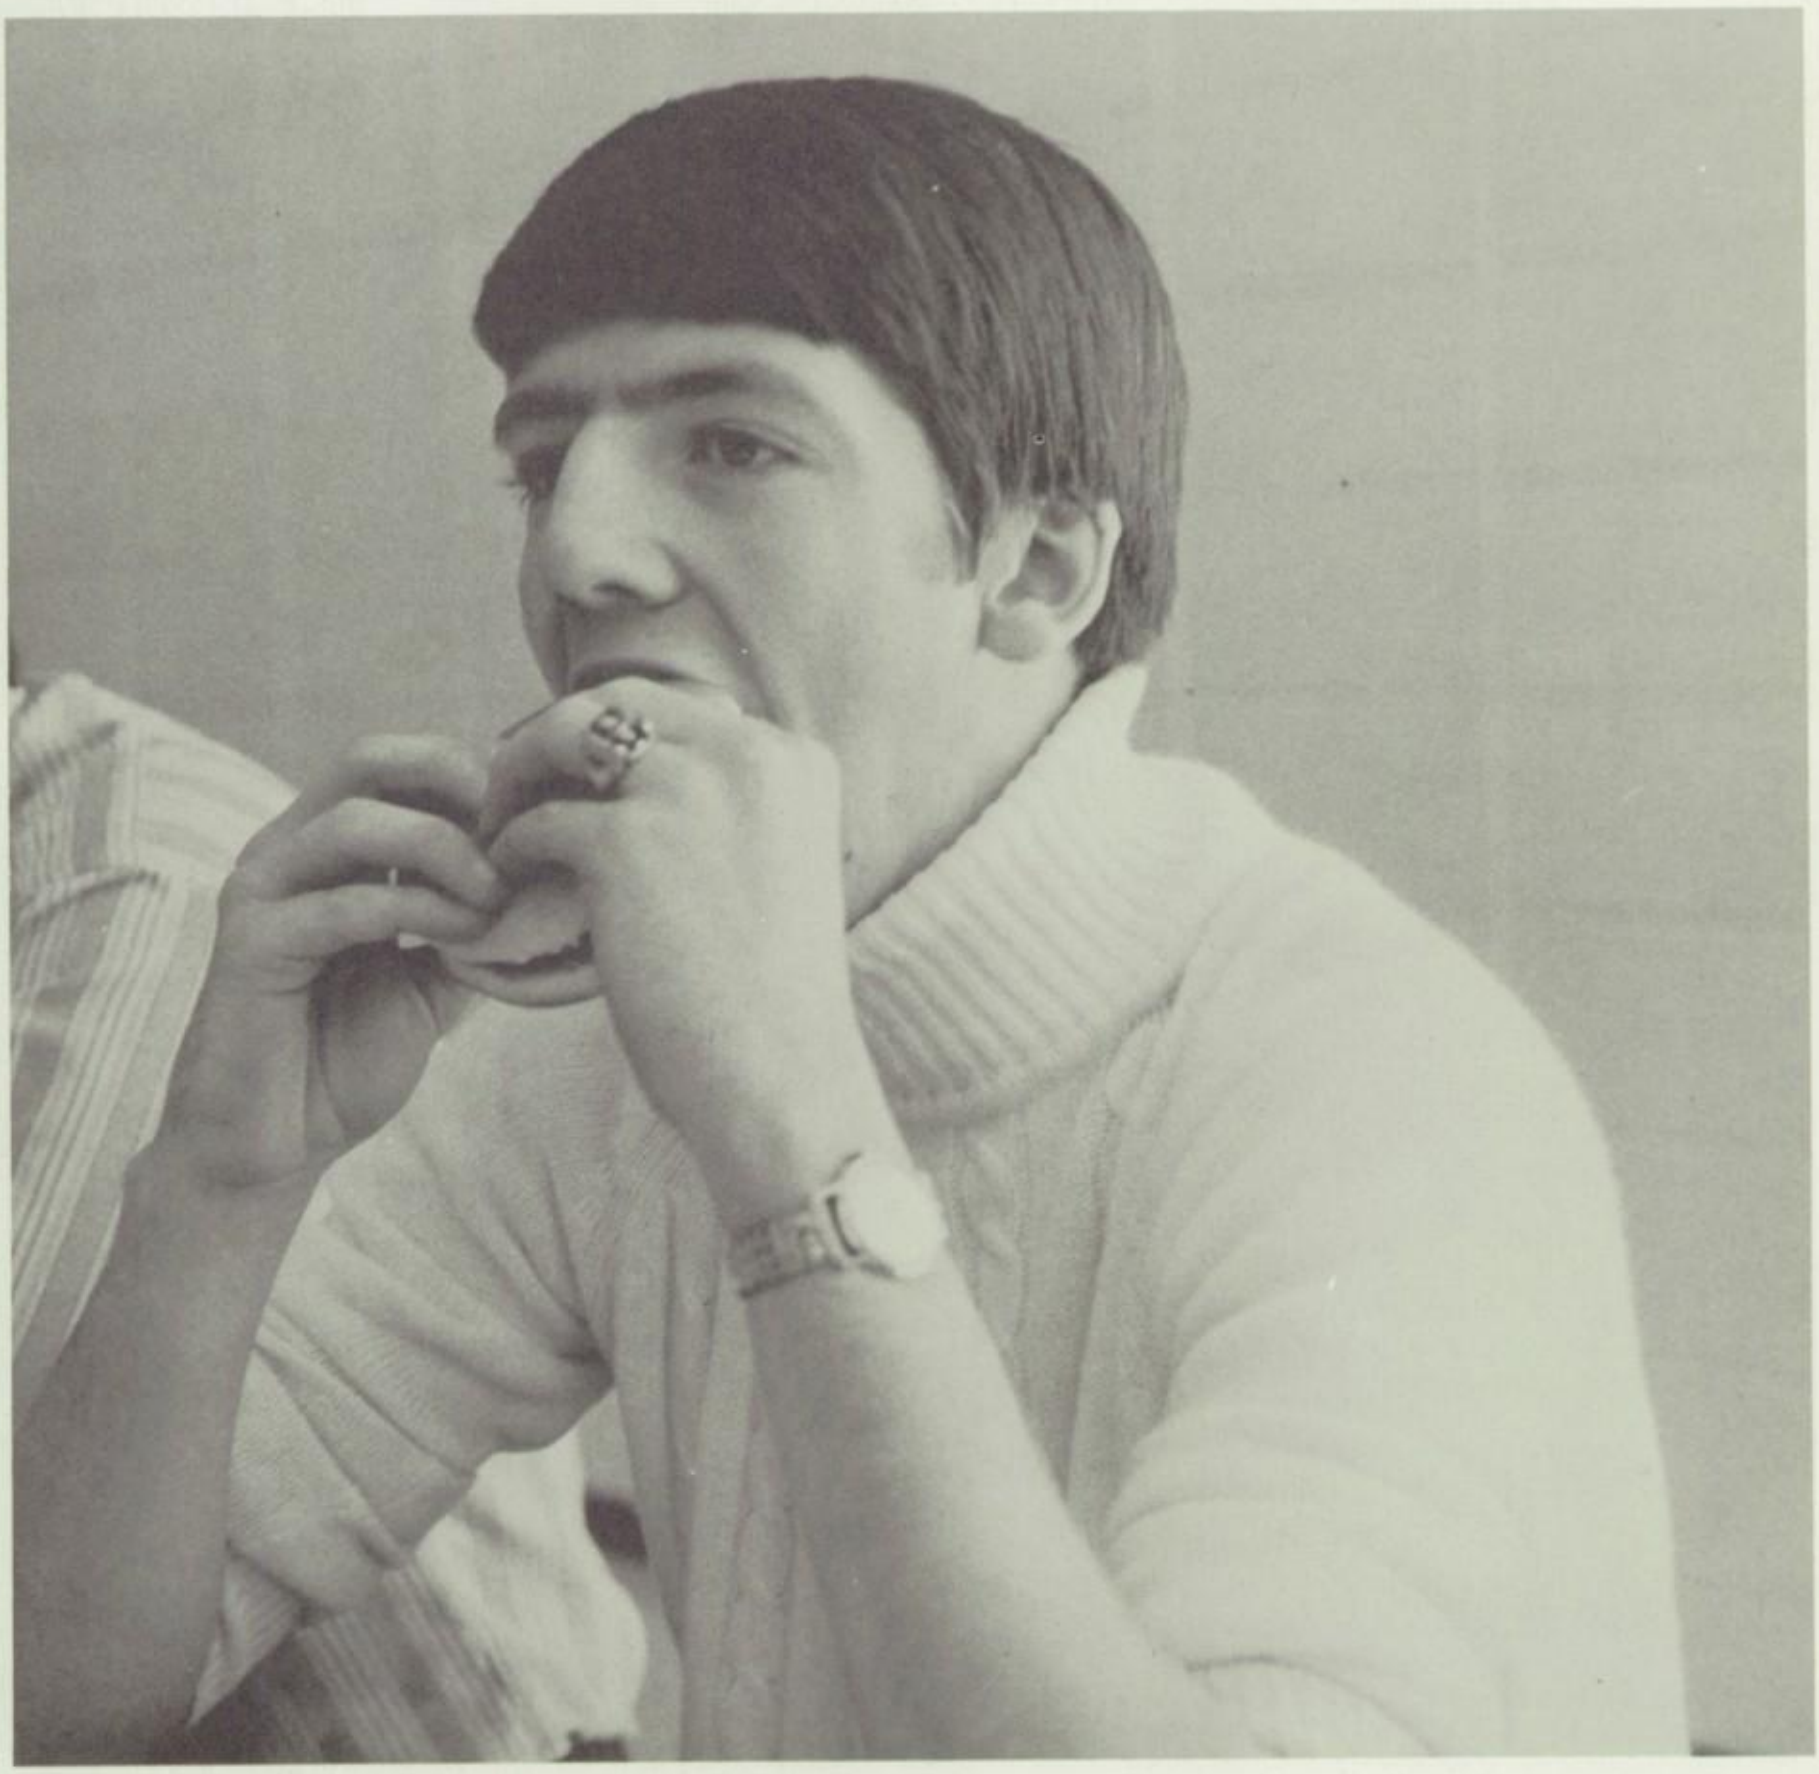
Students express Triton's individual style



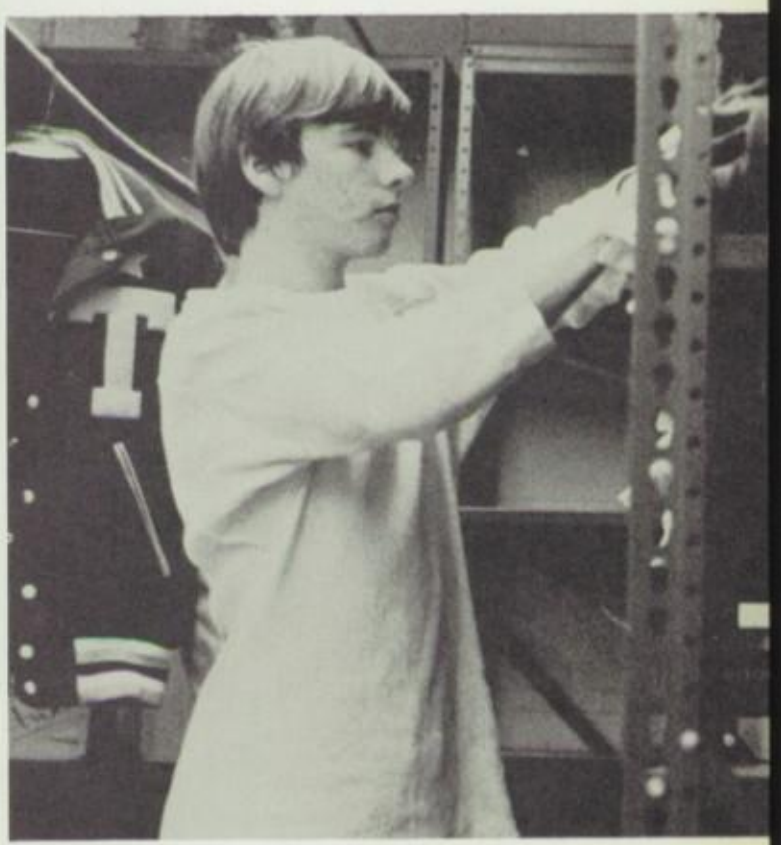
John Reichert gains nourishment from another of the cafeteria's Monday meals.

Seth Slabaugh and Eric Gard take time out after their showers to have a "whose is prettier towel contest."

"I can see for miles!" yells Debbie Klotz as Jan Gottschalk laughs and enjoys herself much to Lou Welty's dismay.

THS students always do what they do well

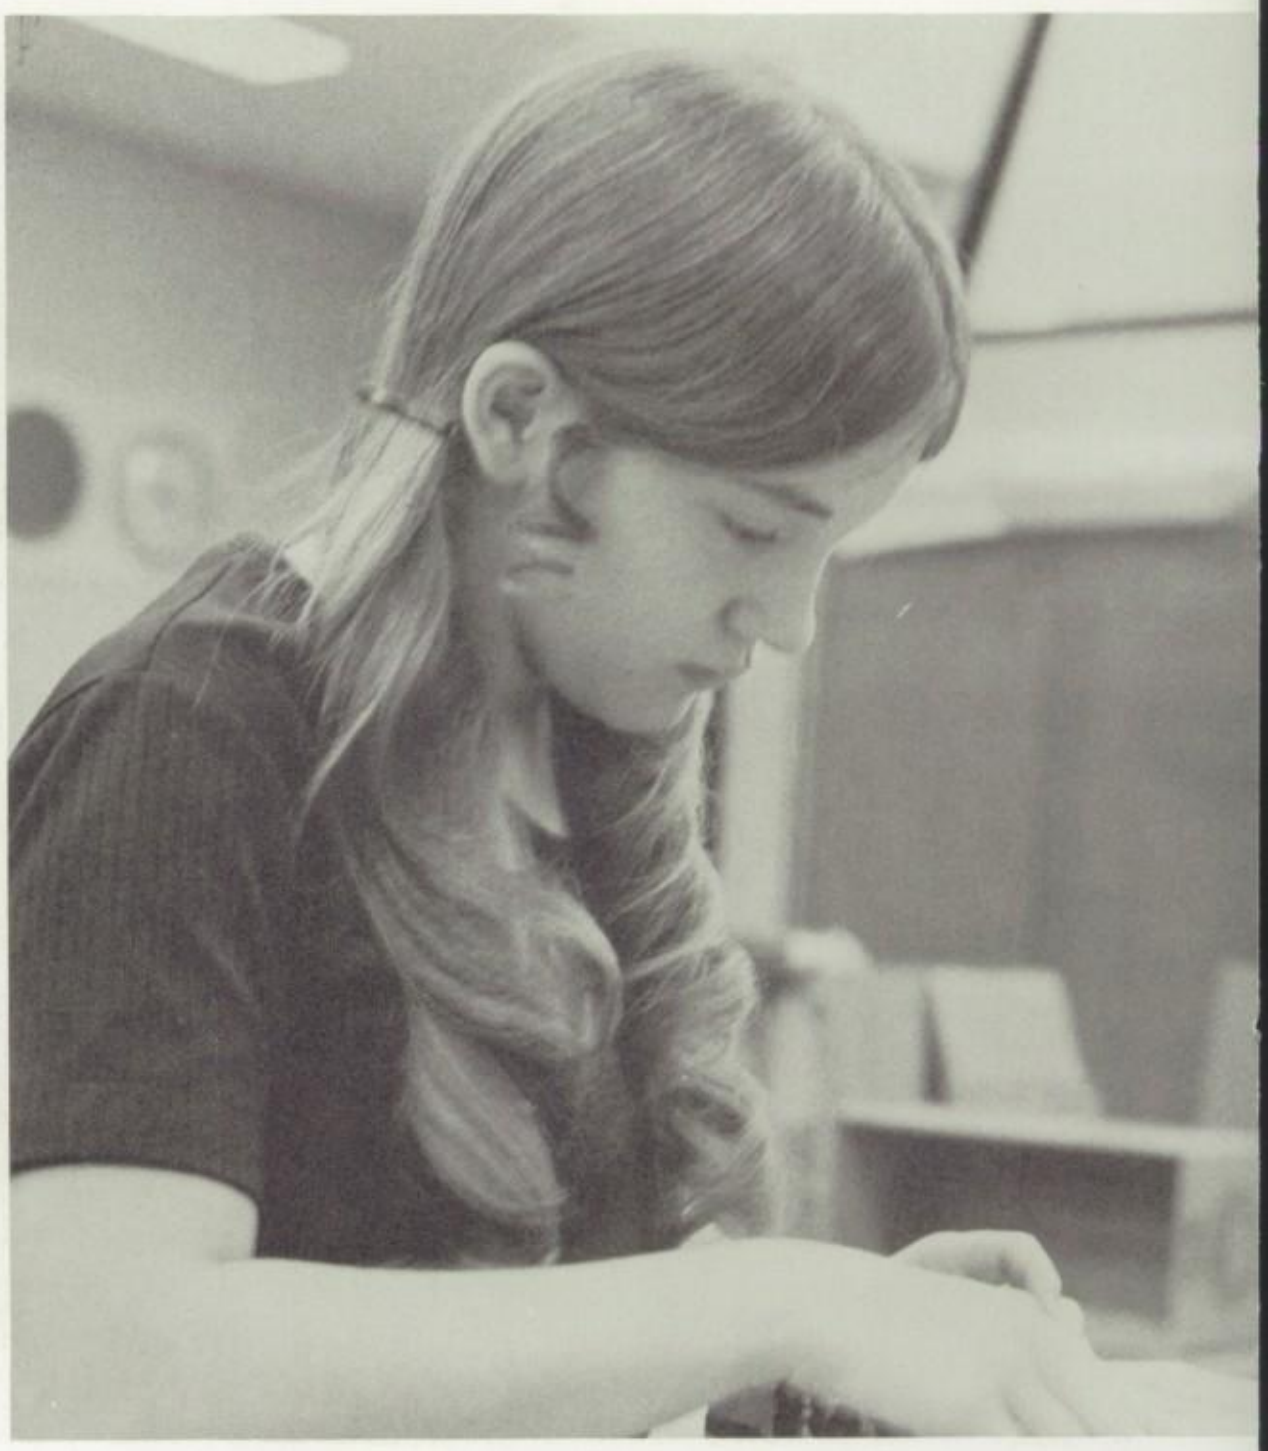
Trojan spirit mounts as the Varsity cheerleaders display their ability in a pyramid.



Seldom silent, Rick Bessinger spends one of his thoughtful moods working in the storage room.

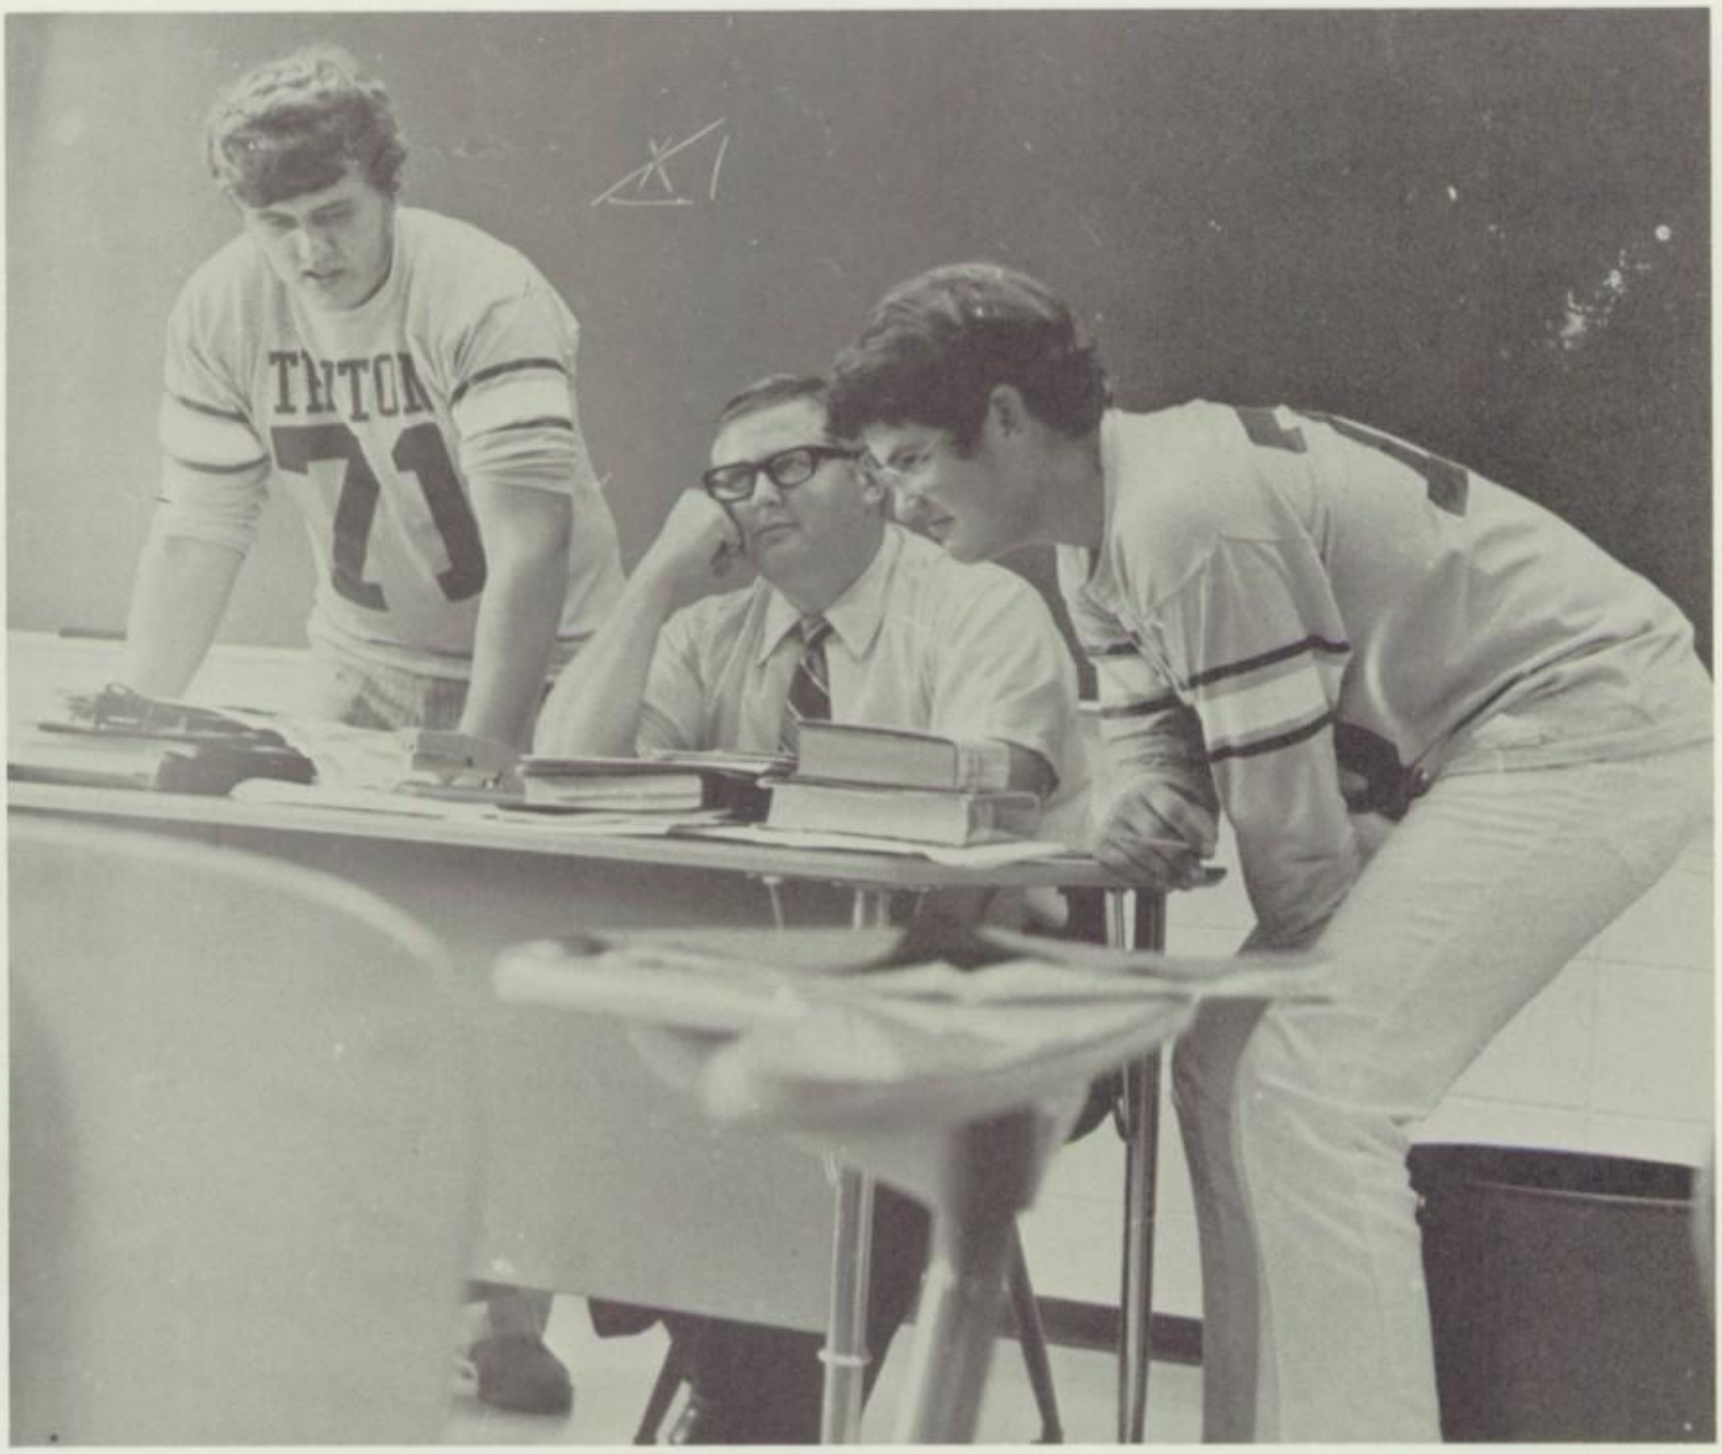
Greg Scott and Ed Rock discuss the joys of sectional pins as Coach Davis thinks onward to the regional meet.

Fun in classes not dismissed from THS



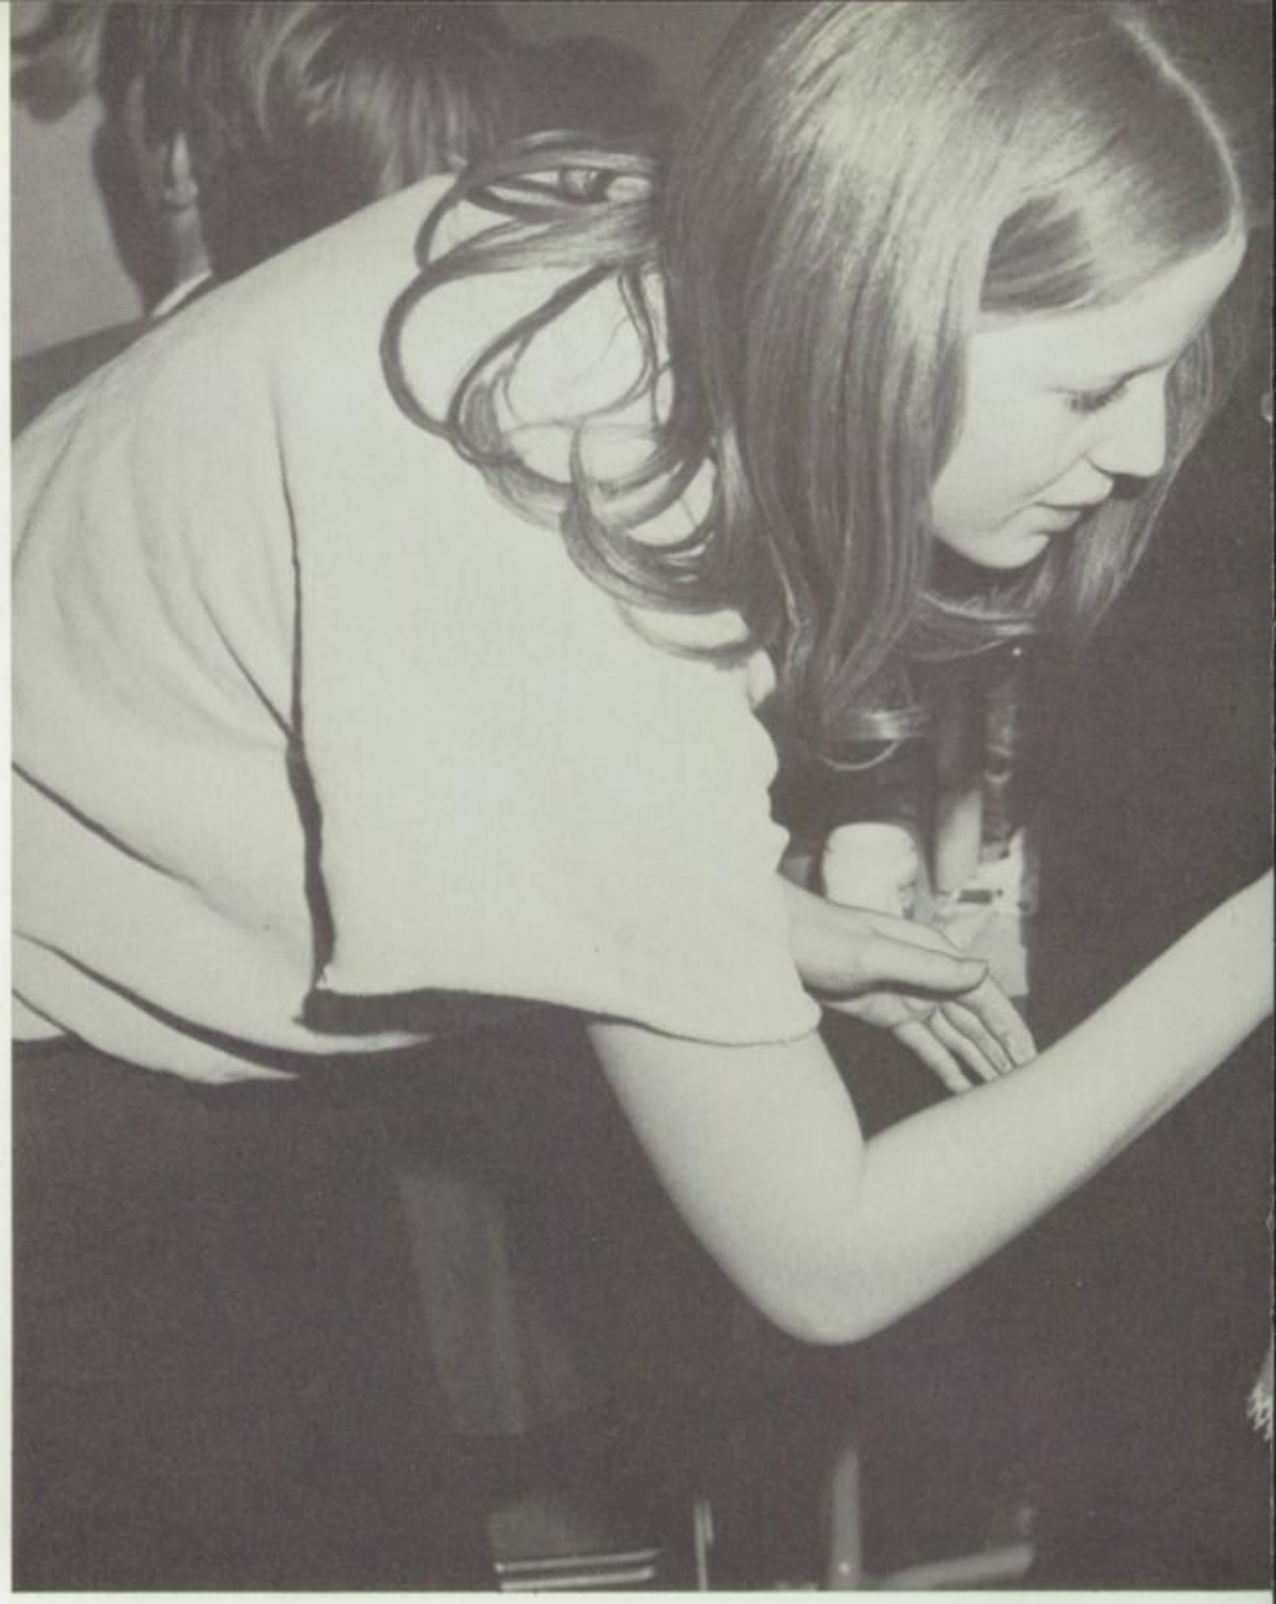
Pam Faulkner centers her concentration on her cardboard box collage.

Kim Faulkner proudly pronounces his p's and q's for speech class.



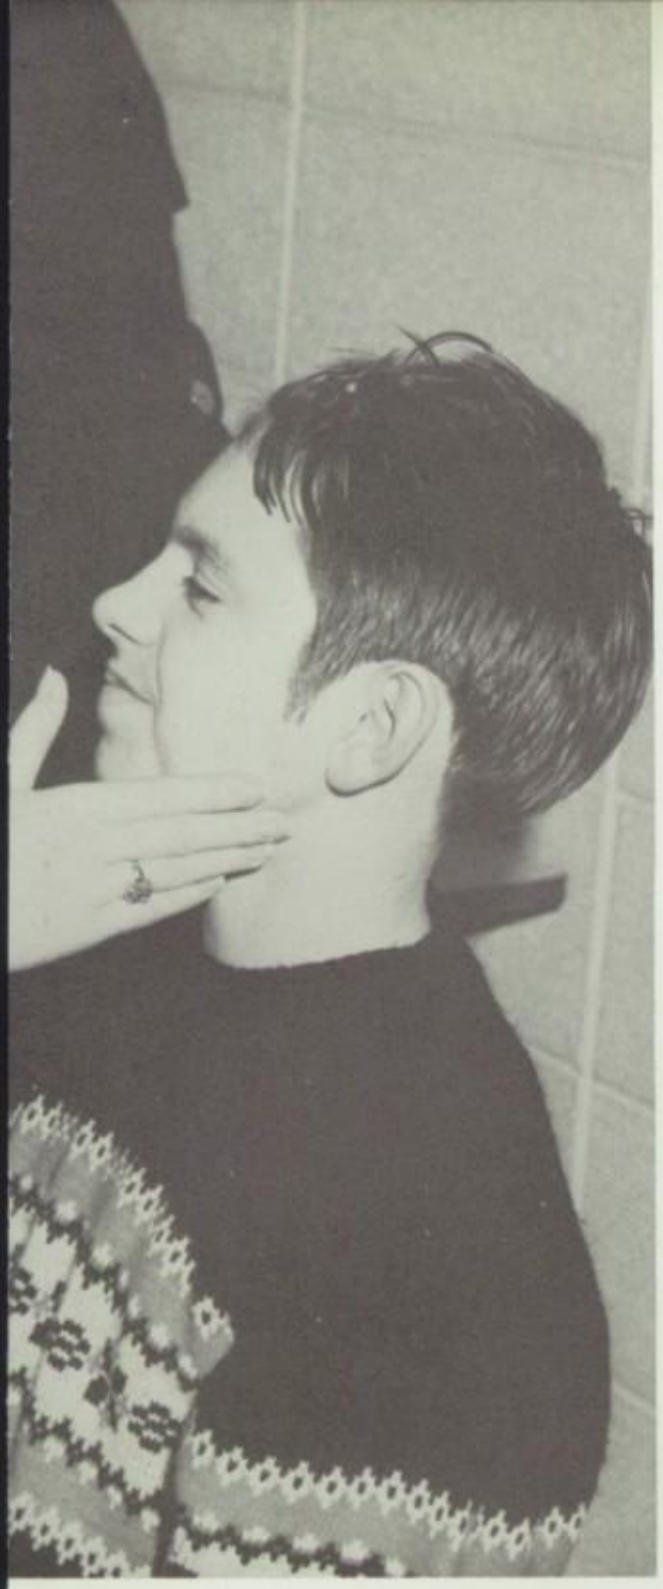
Jamie Erwin and Ed Rock exemplify two normal (?) students in Mr. King's U.S. History class.

Ho, ho, ho! Who do we have here? Could Tim Lemler possibly be one of Santa's elfs in disguise?



Yuck! is Mike Leiter's expression as Sandy Kitchen prepares his make-up for the play "Cheaper by the Dozen".

With arms outstretched and sincere emotions showing on their faces, these Swing Choir members sing Jesus Christ Superstar.



Students gain by participating in many activities

With diligence and concern, these three Triton faculty men record statistics during the sectional wrestling meet.

The excitement of teammates is there to greet him after Tony Lozier has completed one of his many pins.

Classes learn to speak in many tongues

Modern Novel, a senior English course, was a change in the English department. The sophomores, adjusting to the system, changed to American Literature, a class previously taught to juniors, and also studied speech. Junior classes were Practical English, Comp. I, and American Literature works studied by the freshmen were "The Odyssey" and "Julius Caesar."

Latin students had certain days set aside when they dressed up and portrayed gods and goddesses. An important part of Latin was studying classical mythology and Roman life.

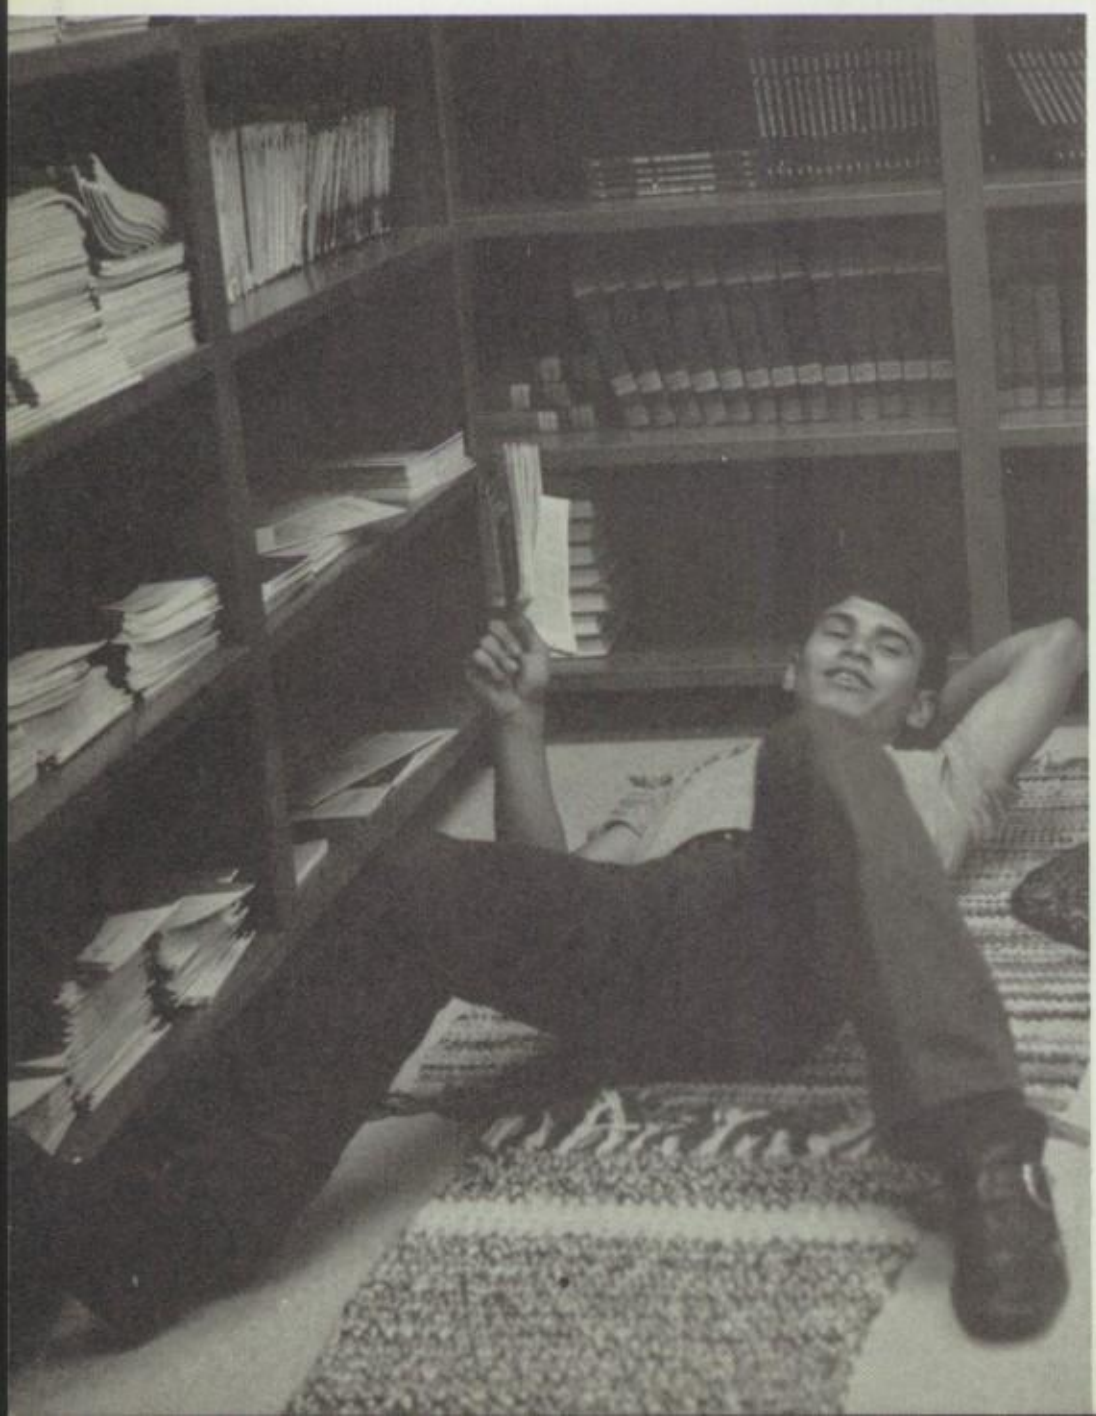
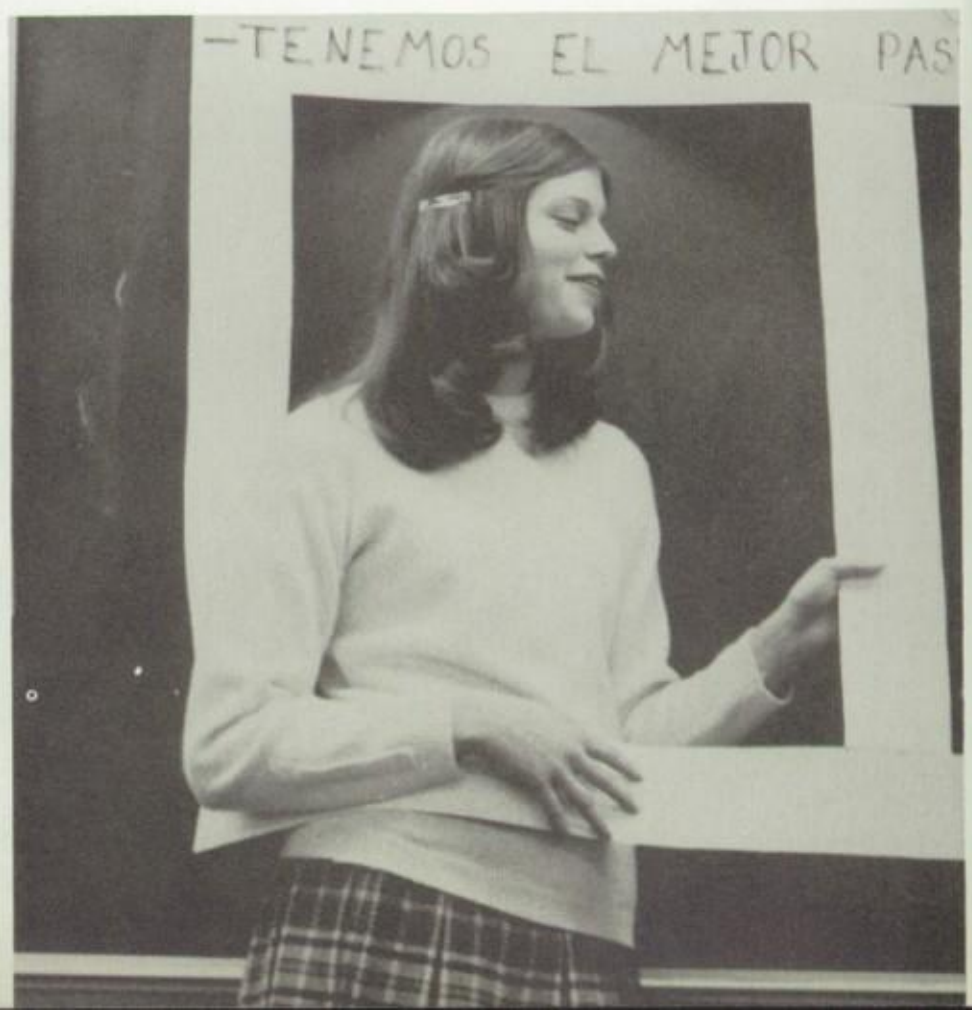
Latin I students busy themselves decorating a bulletin board to apply their knowledge of the language.



Ernie Vuittonet independently studies his English in Mr. Griffey's class.

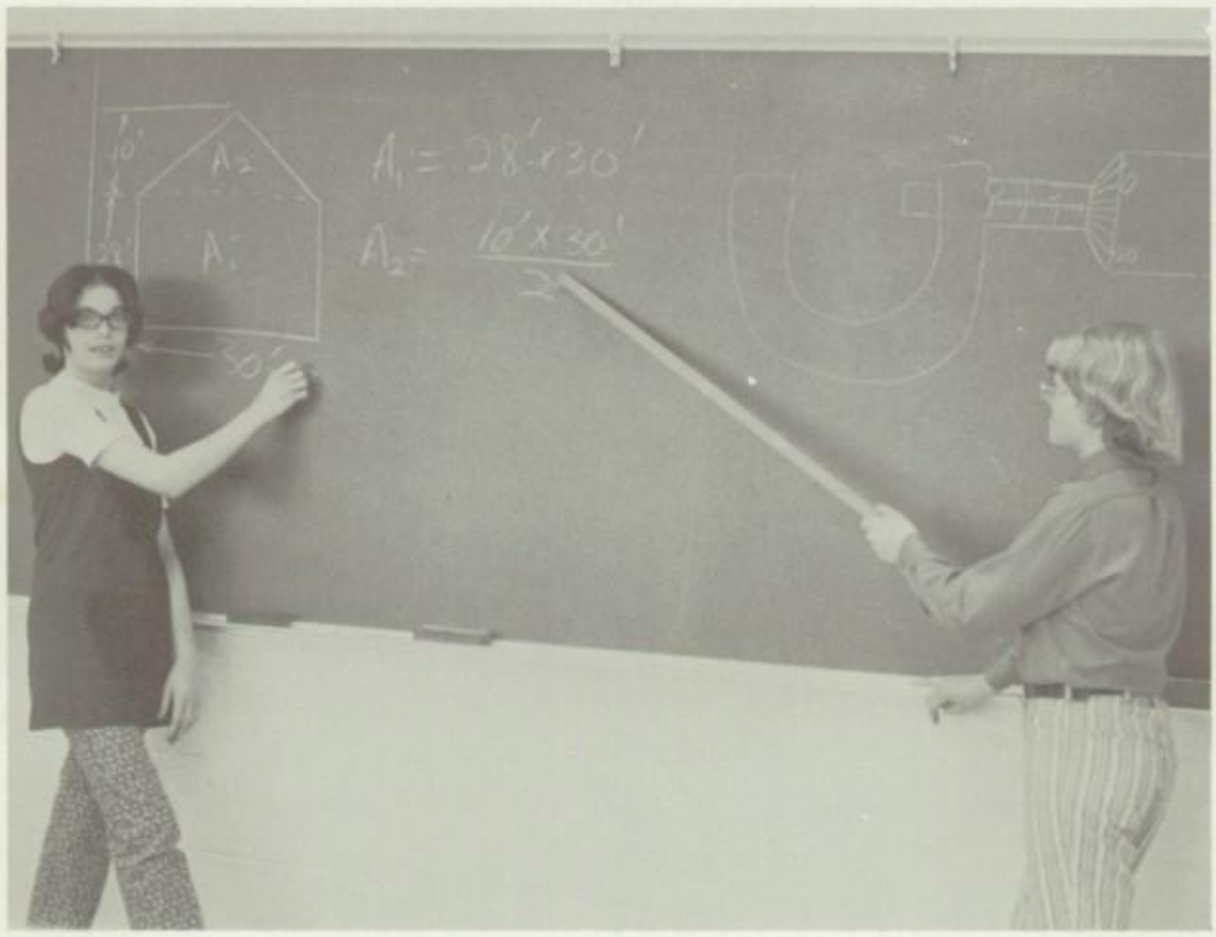


Mrs. Erwin is busy instructing one of her freshmen classes in the fundamentals of grammar.

Having only seven seniors in this Modern Novel class allows everyone to get involved in an uninhibited discussion.

The best pastries in Spain are discussed by Char Mason and Jackie Surface in a Spanish skit.

Math classes multiply their skills and divide it by learning

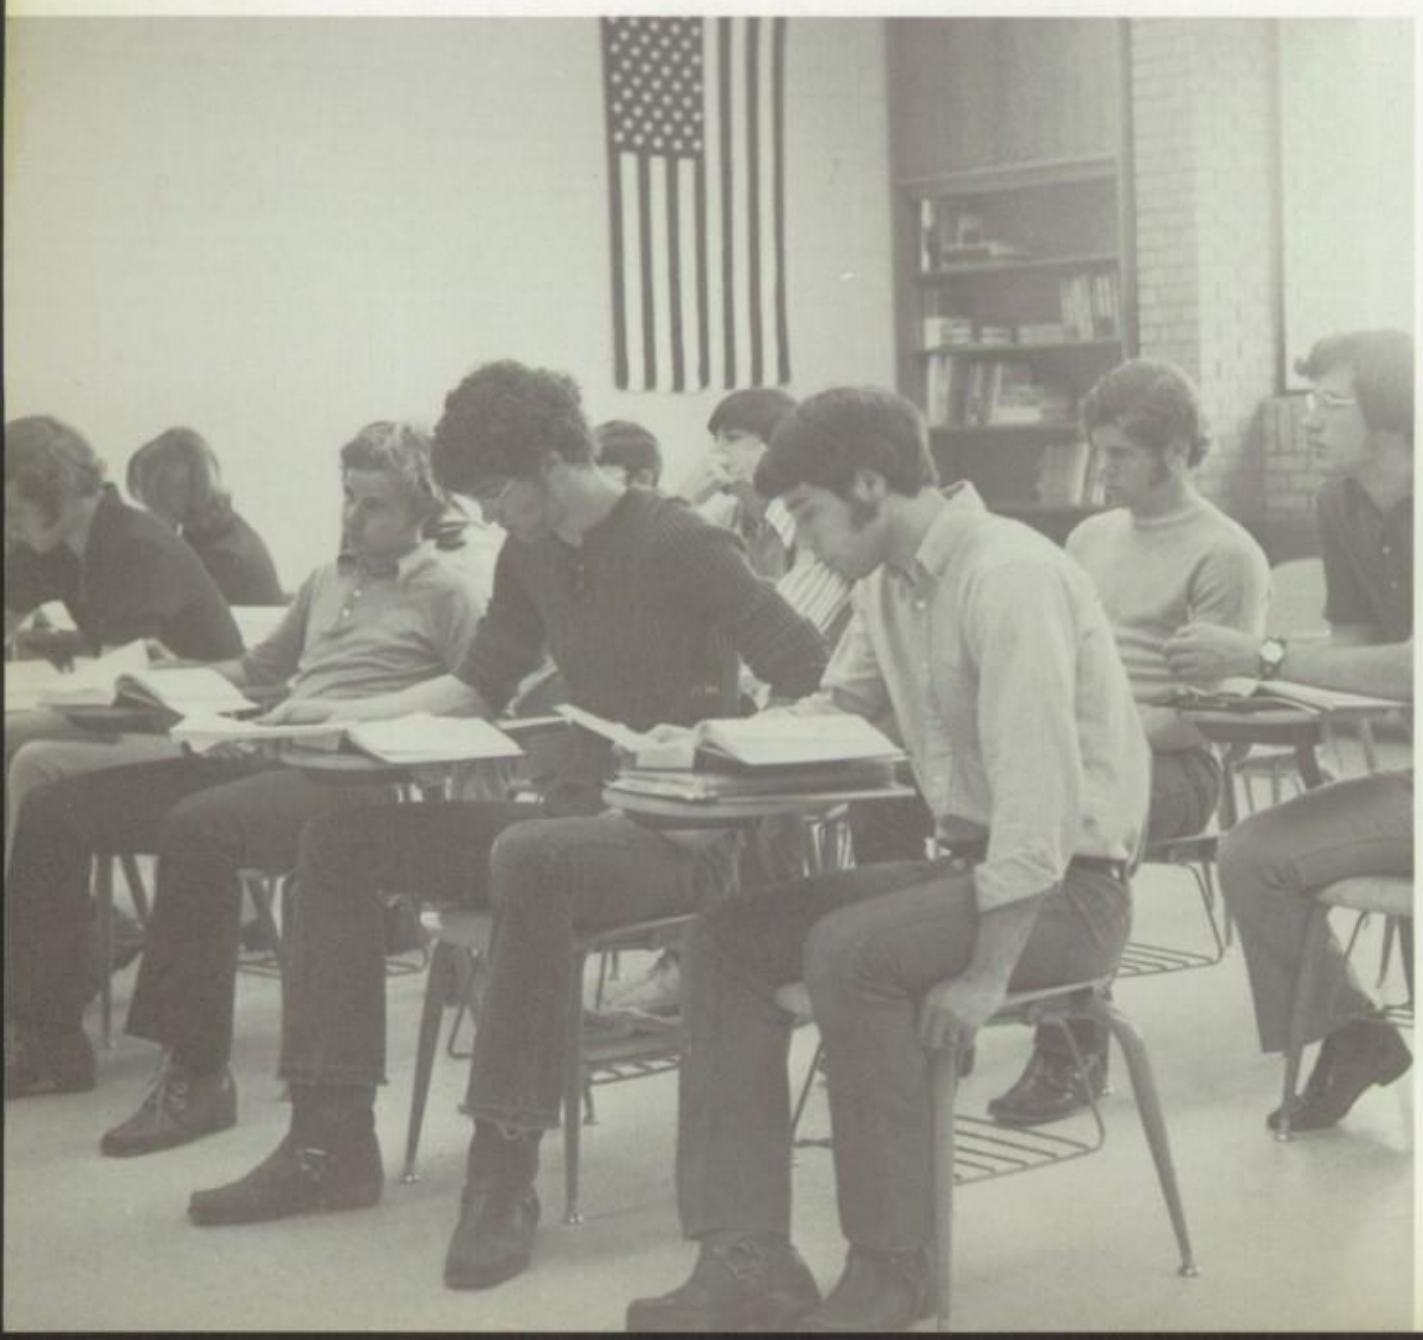


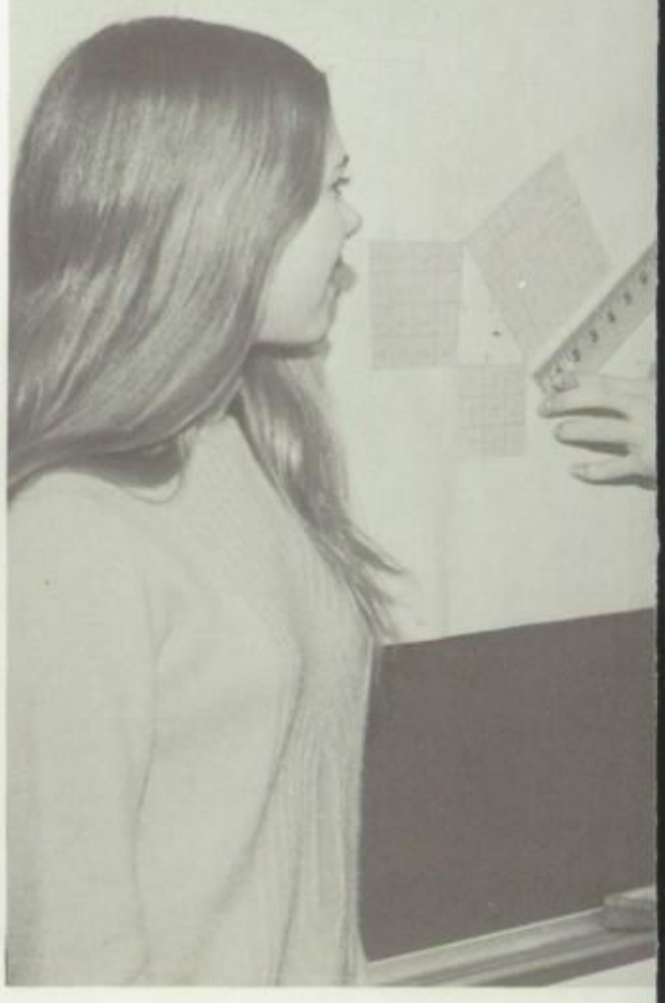
Senior Math students divide their attention between their homework questions and Mr. Smith's answers.

Practical Senior Math was a new class added to the math department this year. Freshman Algebra I classes learned the skills of factoring. General math classes worked with percentages. The geometry classes explored the Pythagorean Theorem. Algebra II students worked on factoring and also on logarithms. Senior math students adjusted their field of study to odds and probabilities and on trig. functions.

Freshmen algebra students use illustrations to figure out story problems.

Nate Richer pictorially displays the fundamentals of geometry to Cindy Nifong.





The expression of many Algebra II students during the lecture is puzzled and bewildered before they finally see the light.

Mr. Baughman appears patient as he explains the basics of percentages to the general math class.

A living world is found in history class

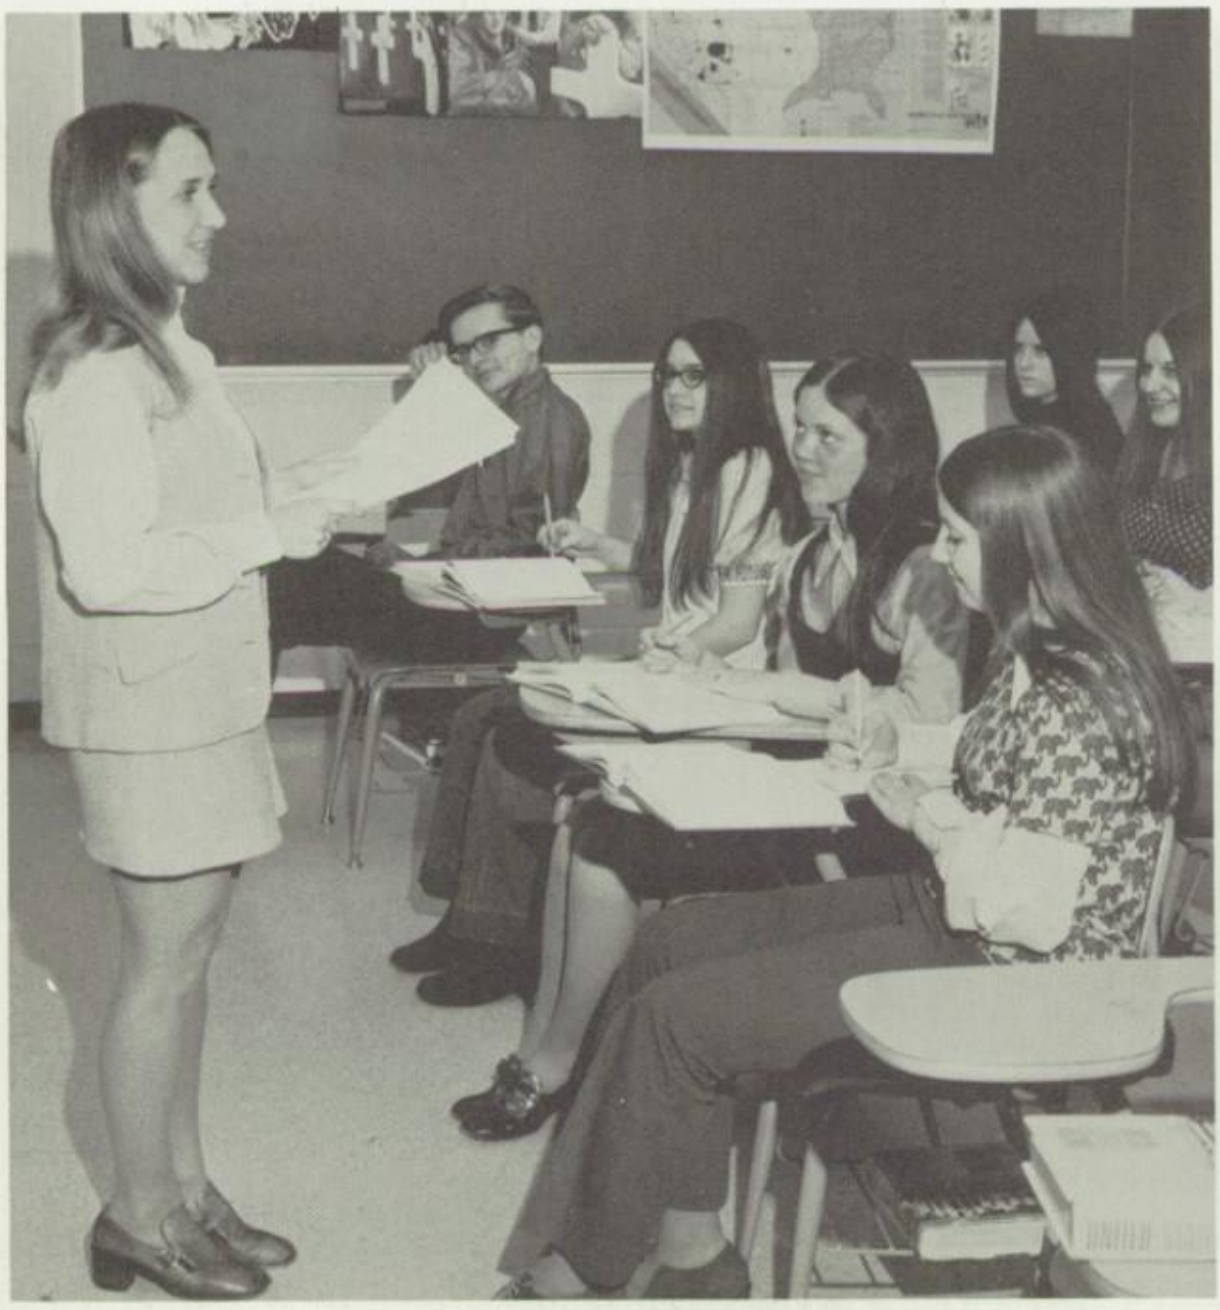
History classes set about to develop an understanding of the past. U. S. History classes studied the development of the nation and spent one week studying the history of this area.

World History classes studied the ancient and modern world.

Psychology and sociology classes delved into human behavior patterns and enjoyed listening to a hypnotist.

Carmen Heckaman and Laurie Young take time to exercise the hamster they used for experiments in psychology.

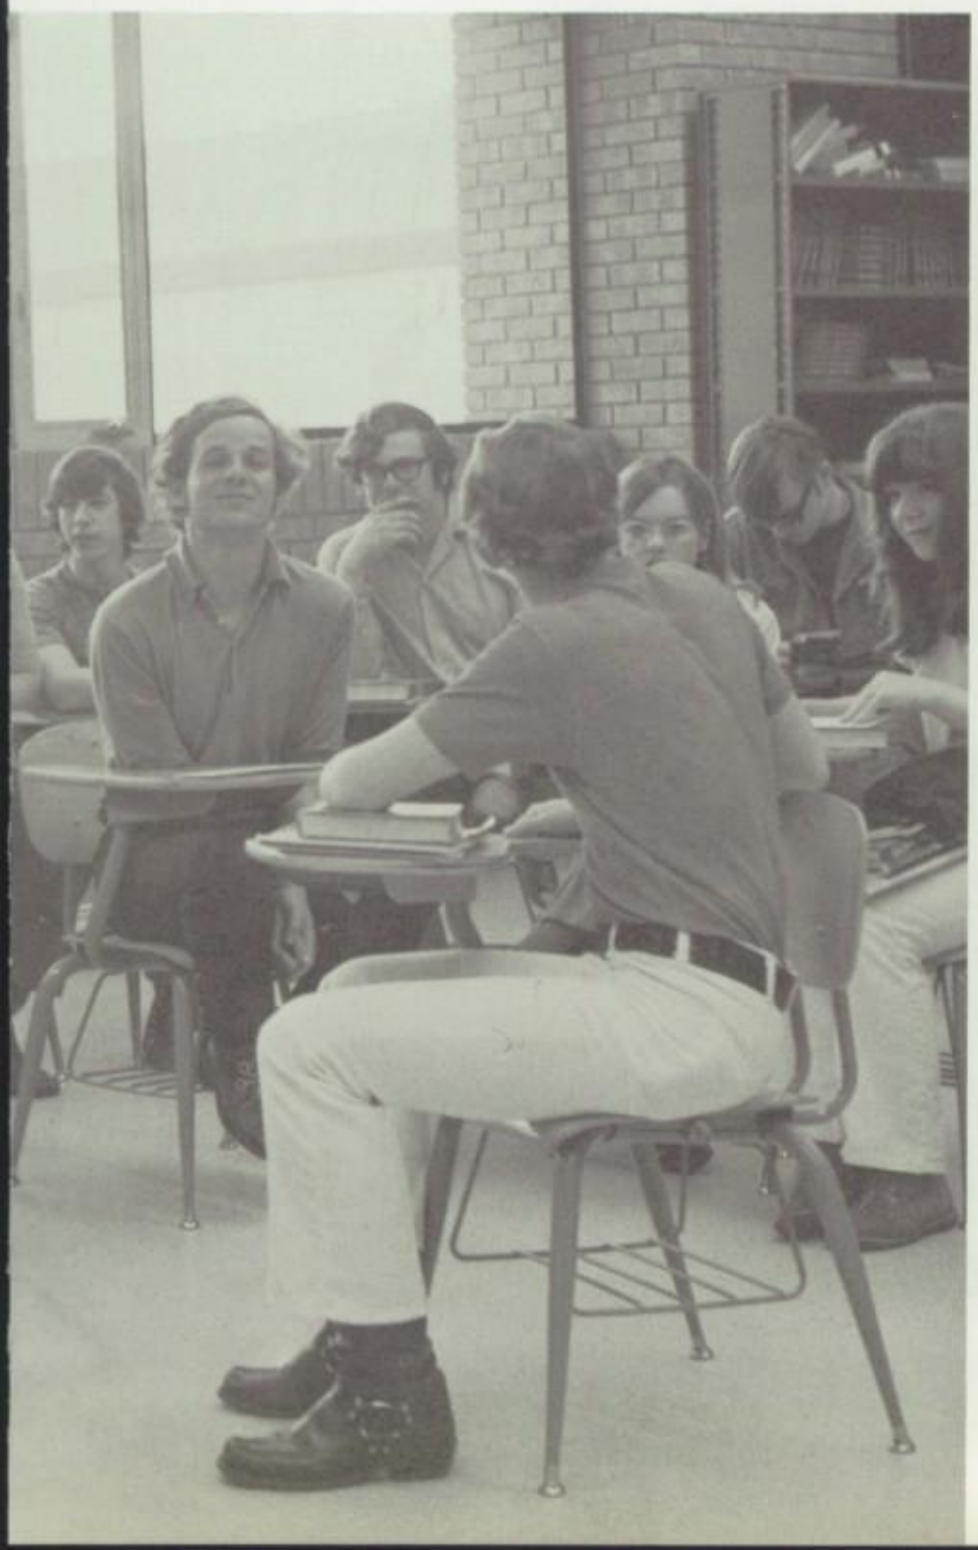
Government classes gather round to review for a test.

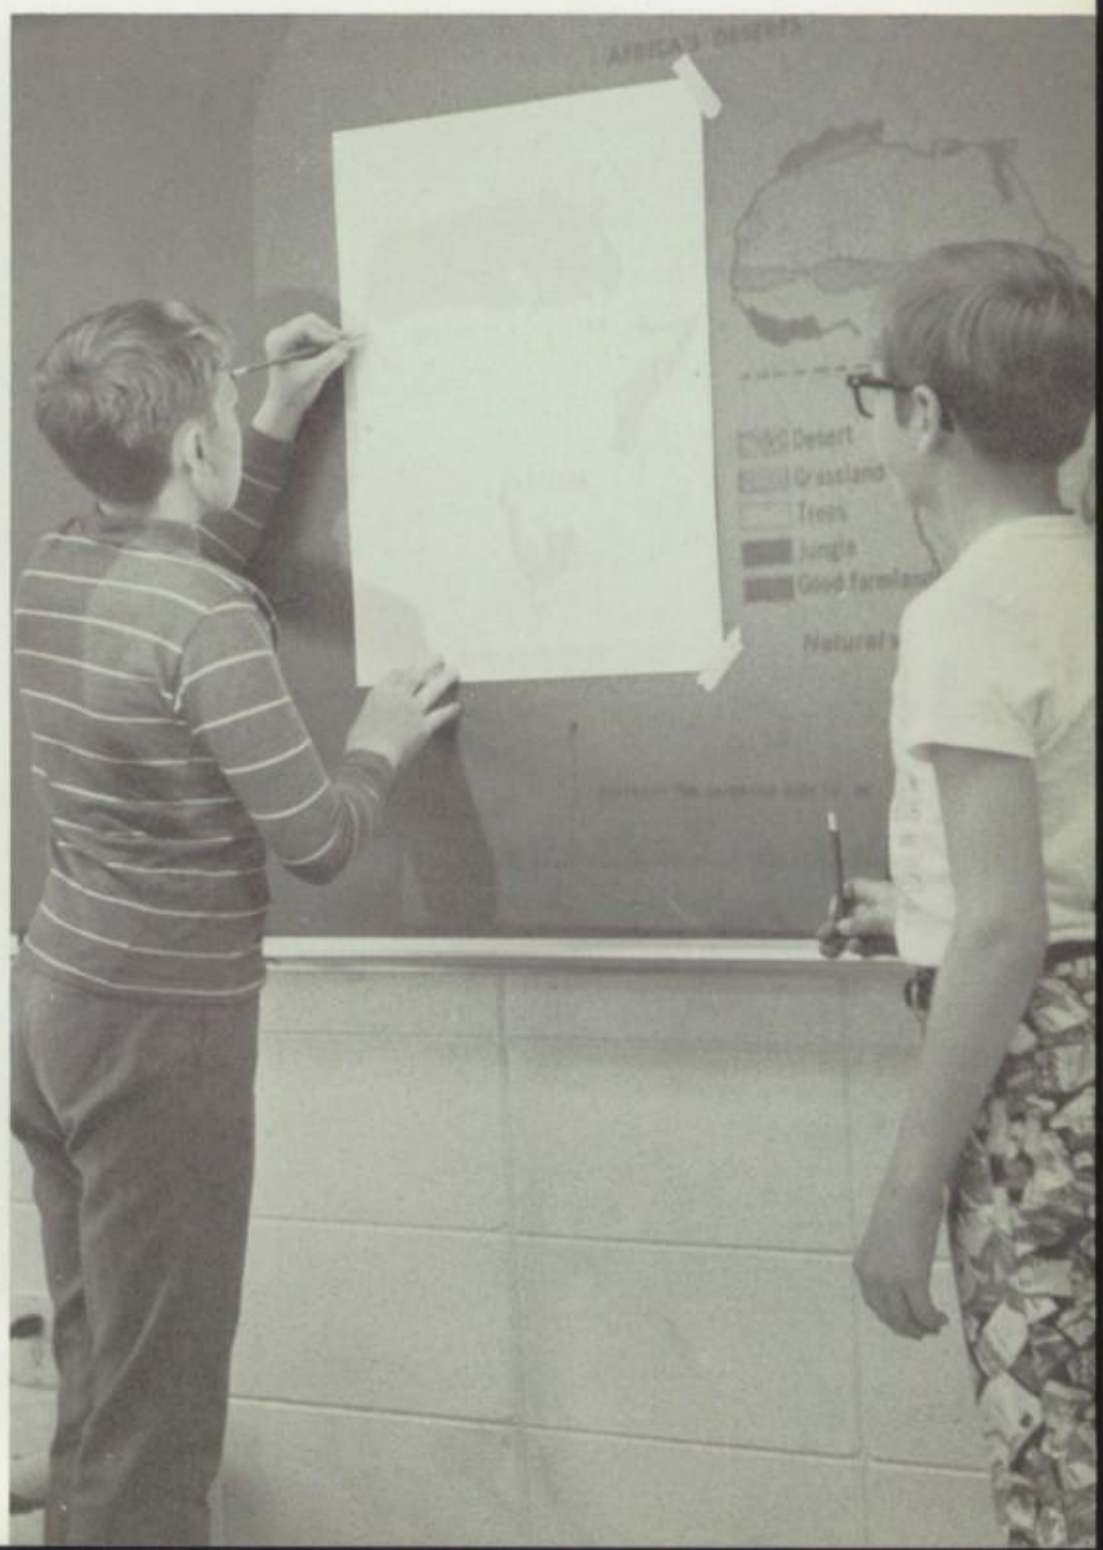


Miss Graham prepares her first hour class for a test as she says, "Put your books and notes away."

Mr. Becker, student teacher, listens as students open up for a worldly discussion in his history class.

Jed Runnels waits his turn as Lenny Berkey traces Africa from the board.



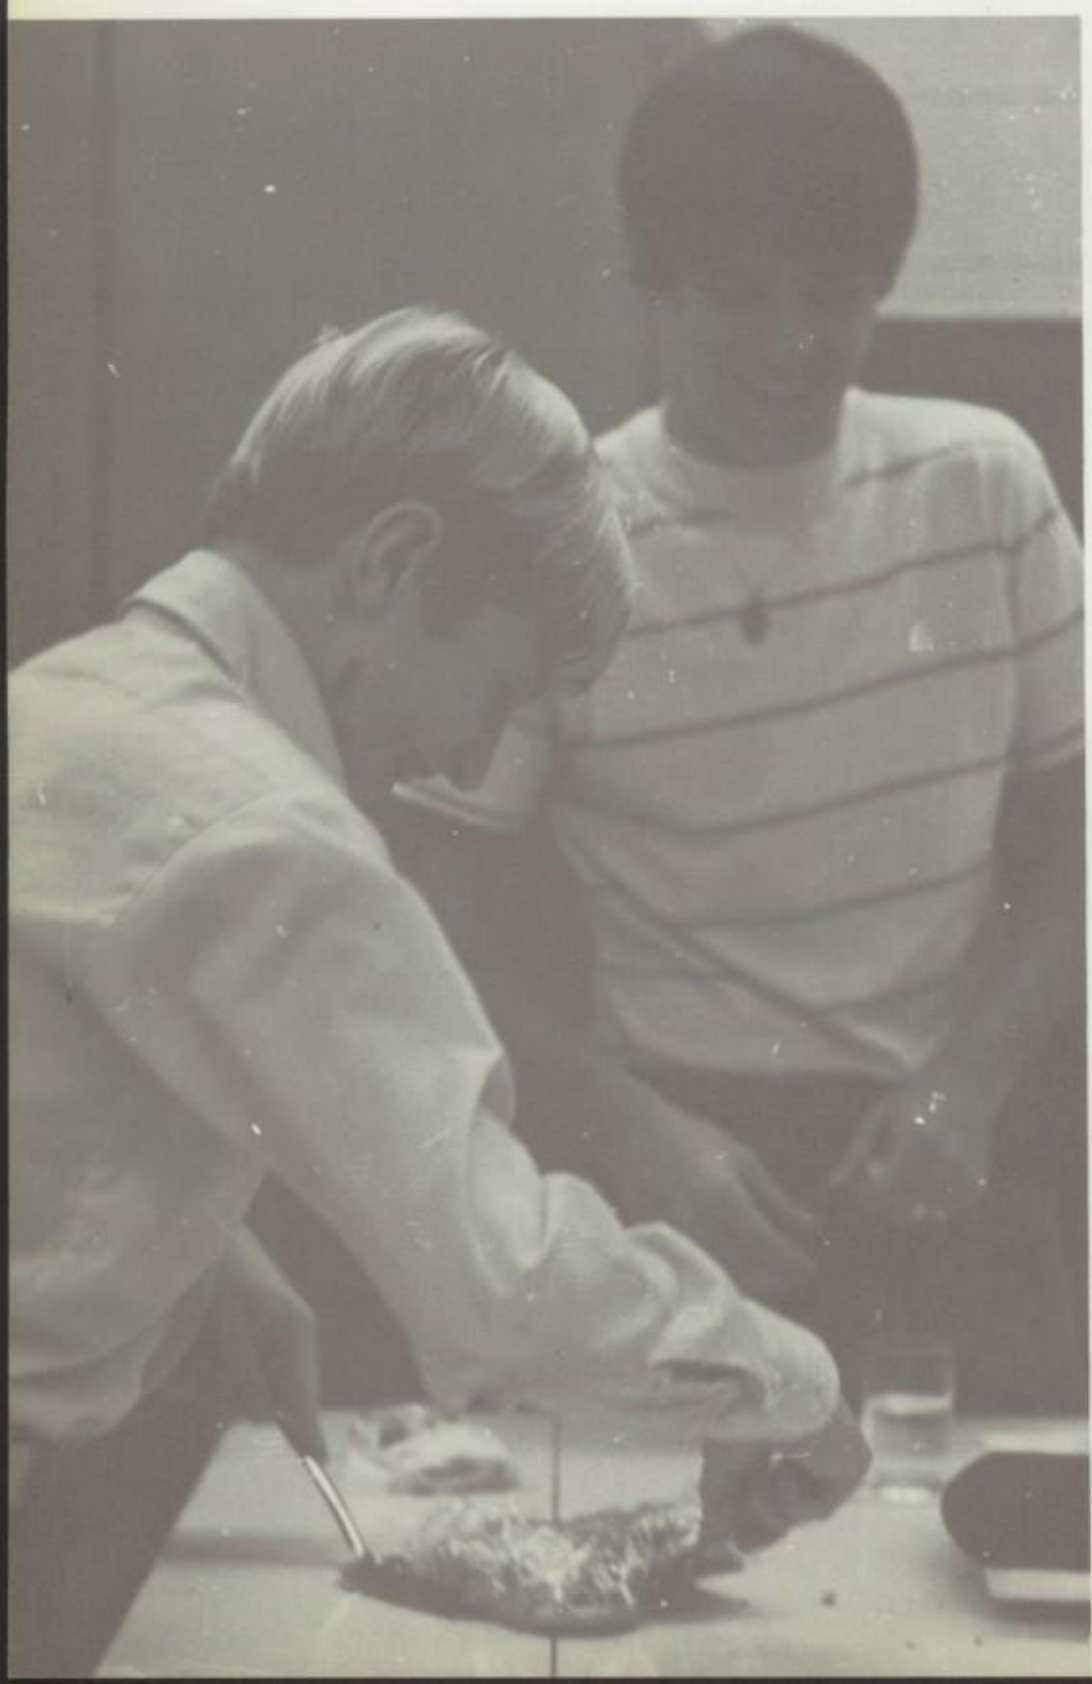


P.E. and H.E. basics for a healthy Triton

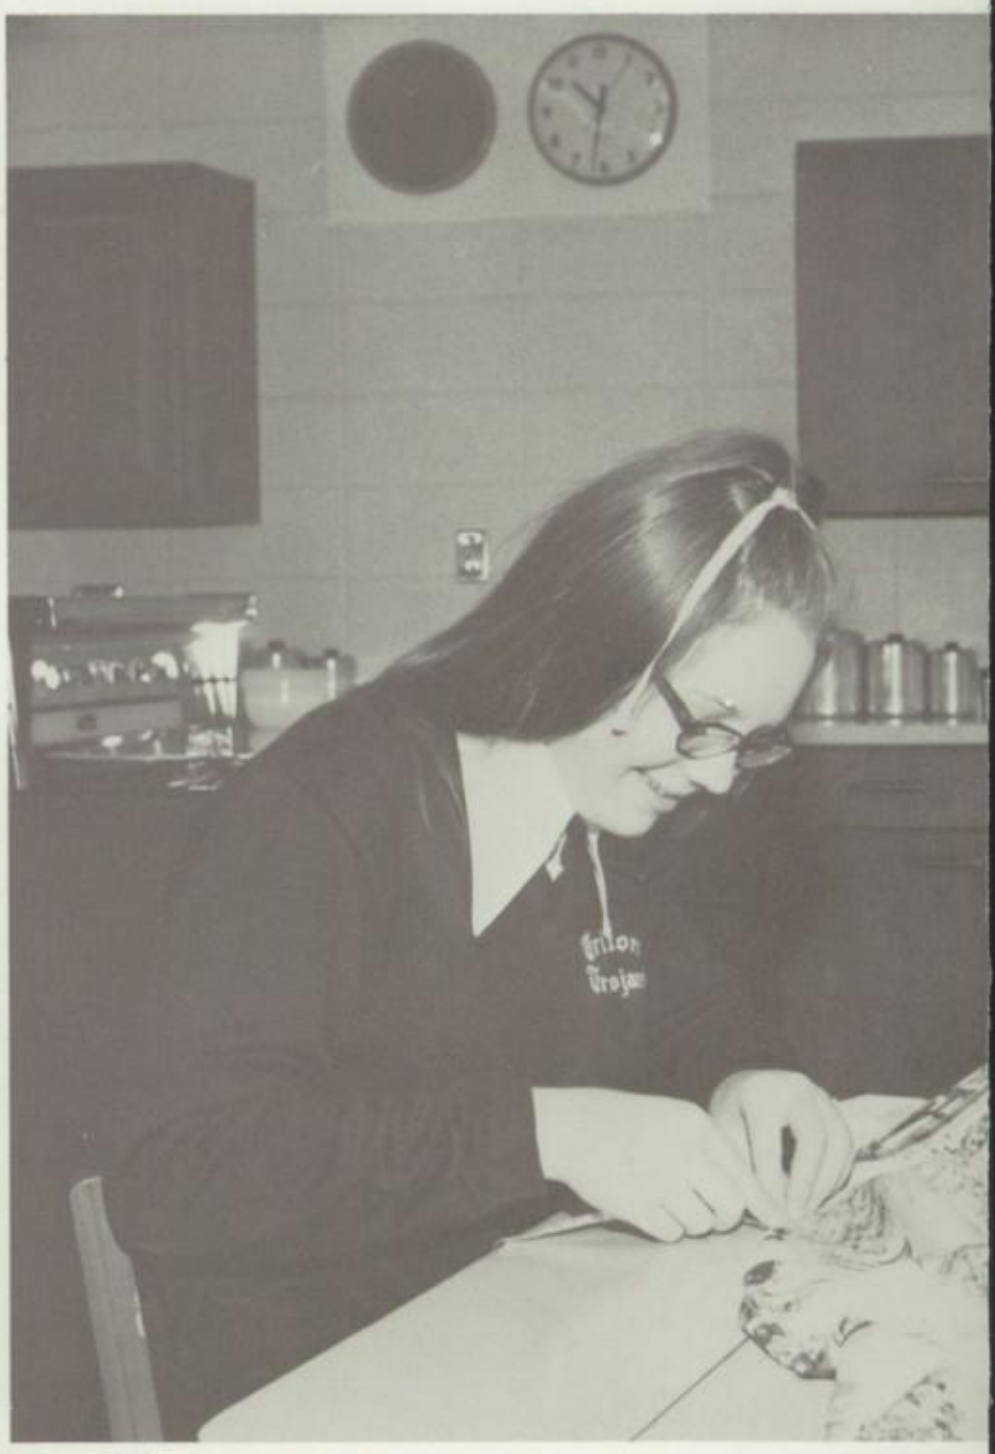
Sew what? Or in other words, who cares if the males invaded the kitchen? Various classes in H. E. sewed, planned meals, and others drew floor plans for their dream houses.

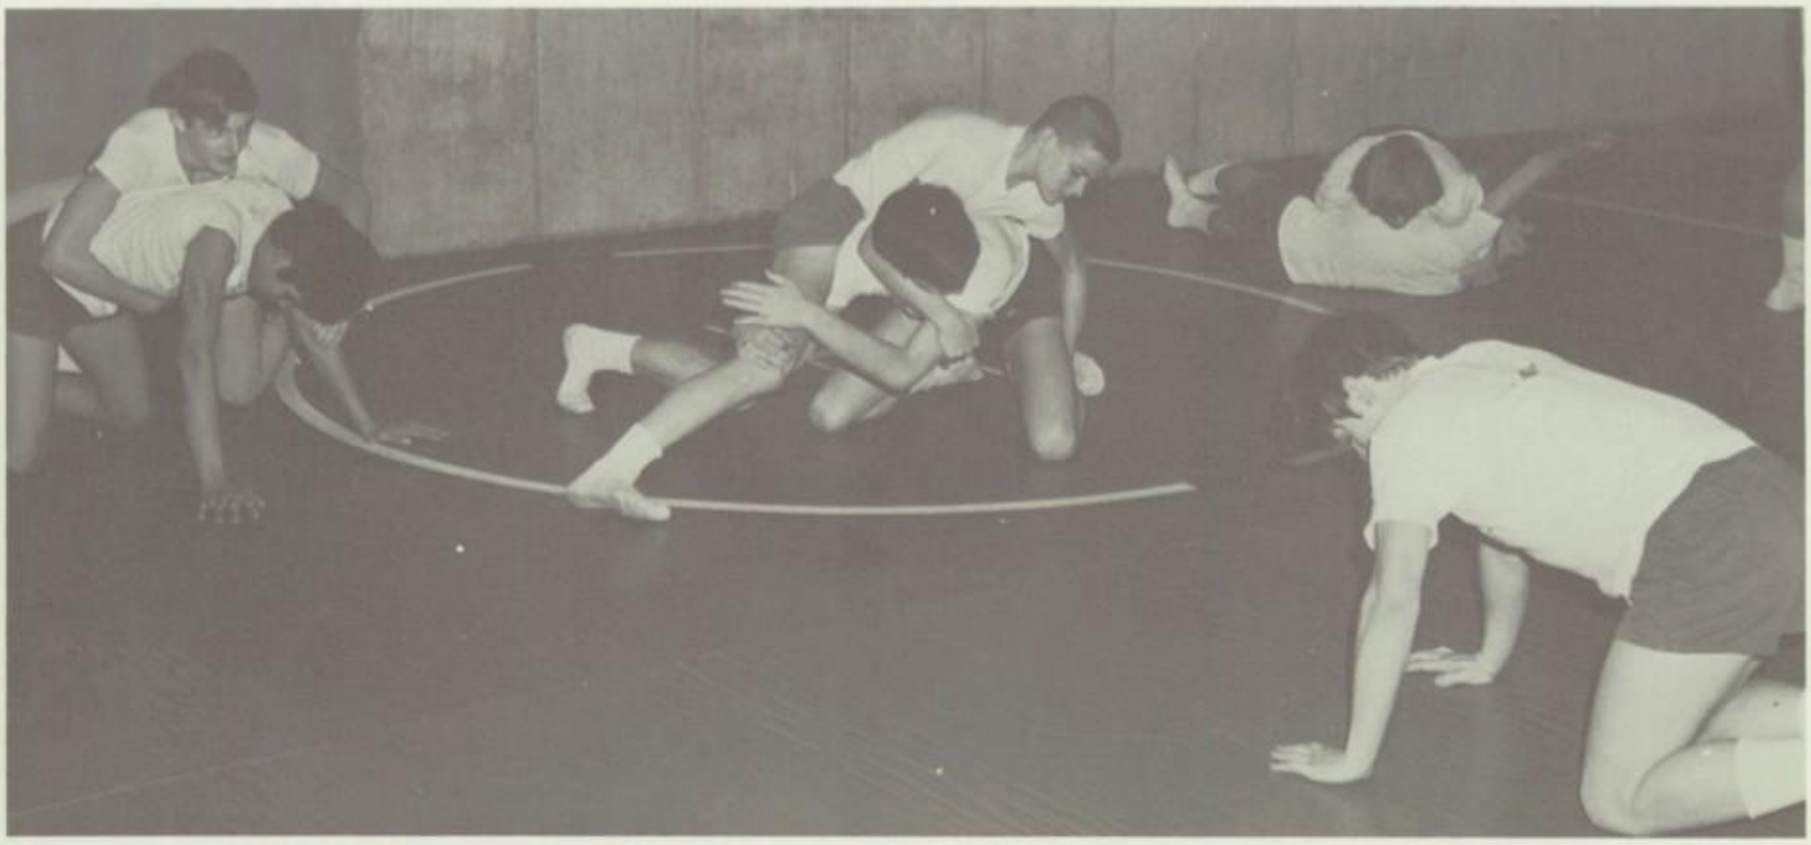
Physical Ed. students, under Miss Breading and Mr. Smith, strengthened their knowledge of physical exertion. Even though the sports in P. E. can be enjoyable, learning to develop proper technique takes skill and coordination.

Learning to sew can be a trying experience, but Jo Ann Bates doesn't let it needle her.



Your guess is as good as anyone elses concerning what Brian Klotz and Larry Franks cooked up in Boys' Home Ec. class.





Marcia Eyrich and Deb Duff mix business and pleasure as they prepare curtains for the elementary cafeteria.

Freshmen P.E. boys are busy learning the basics of wrestling such as "to pin is to win."

Deanna Hall does a headstand under the careful eye of Miss Breading and Kay Church.

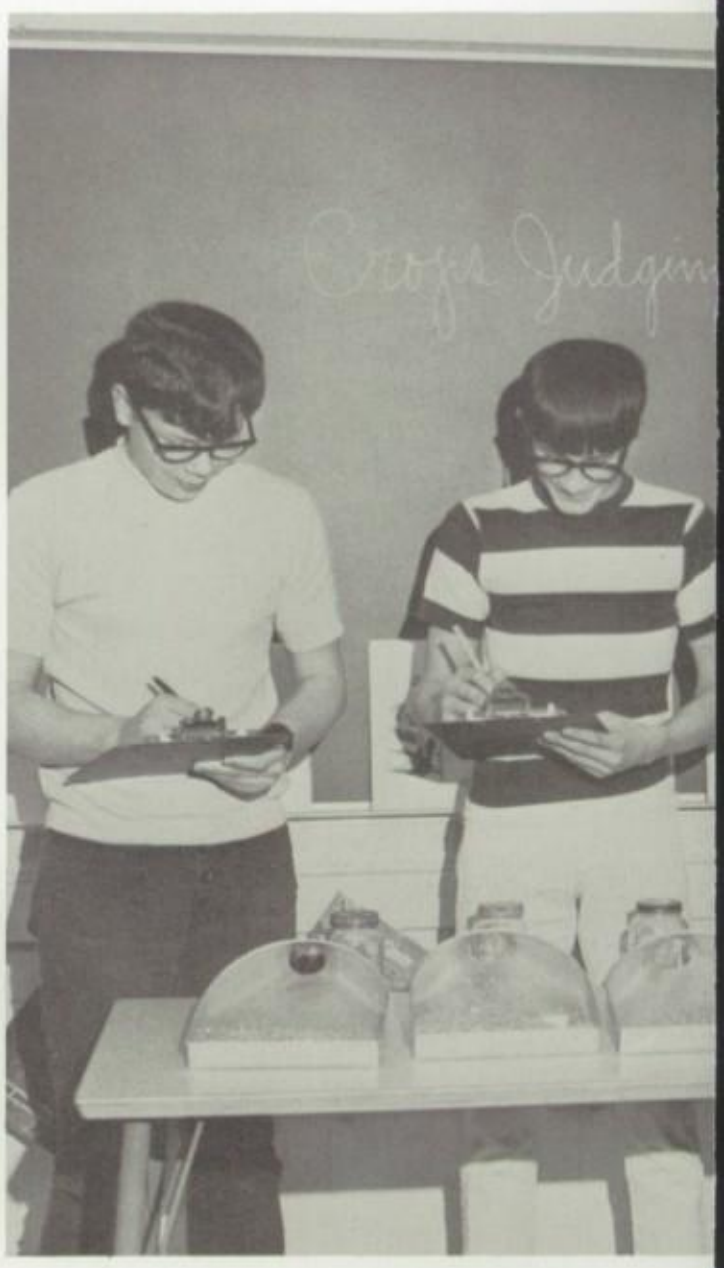
Inventive talents come to life in shop and ag

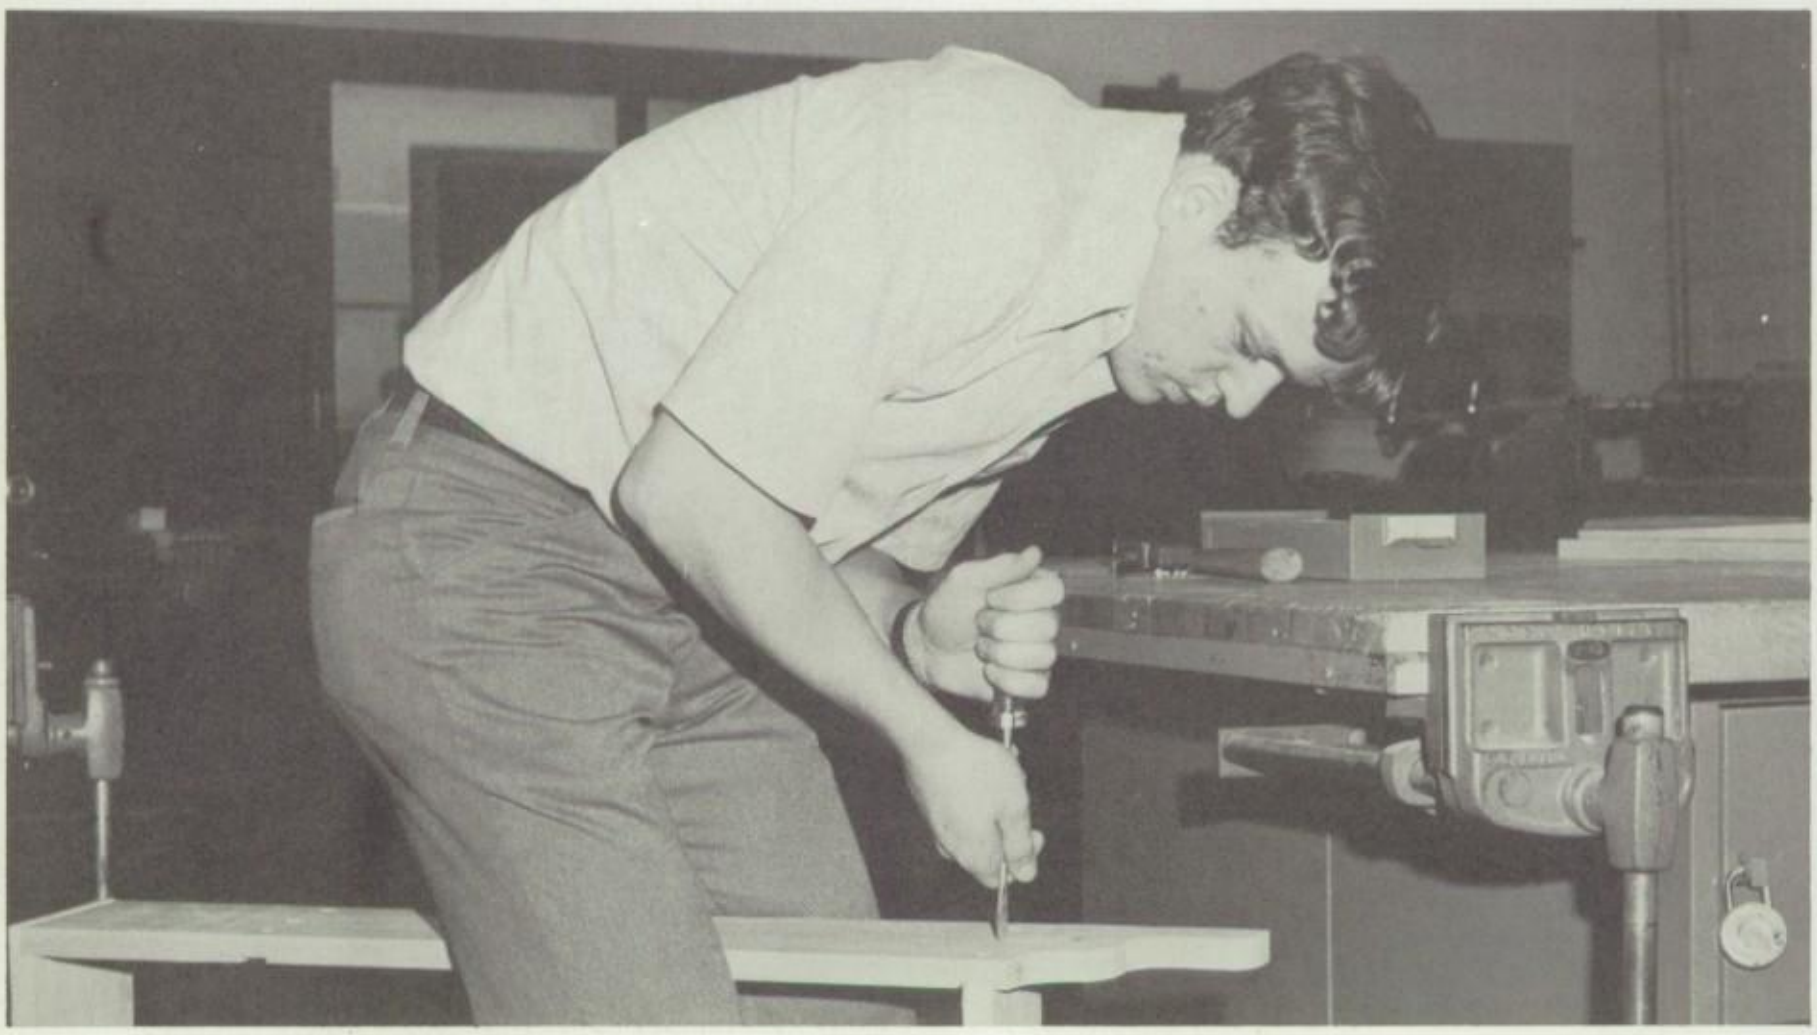
Agriculture, drafting, metal shop, wood shop, printing, and auto-mechanics are located in the far southeastern part of the building. A few gals have invaded this area, but it is "home base" for many THS men.

These classes take textbook knowledge and turn it into practical application. Each of these classes require a certain amount of planning before a project is completed.

Working to a schedule, avoiding waste, and efficient use of time are three practices of "wise shoppers".

Everett Carroll is busy proving that sparks certainly do fly when he is around.





Appearing to have no trouble, these boys demonstrate how to judge crops in Ag. II.

Rex Heckaman pools his knowledge and puts the finishing touches on his cue stick holder.

Jim Augustine does a groovy thing on his milling machine.

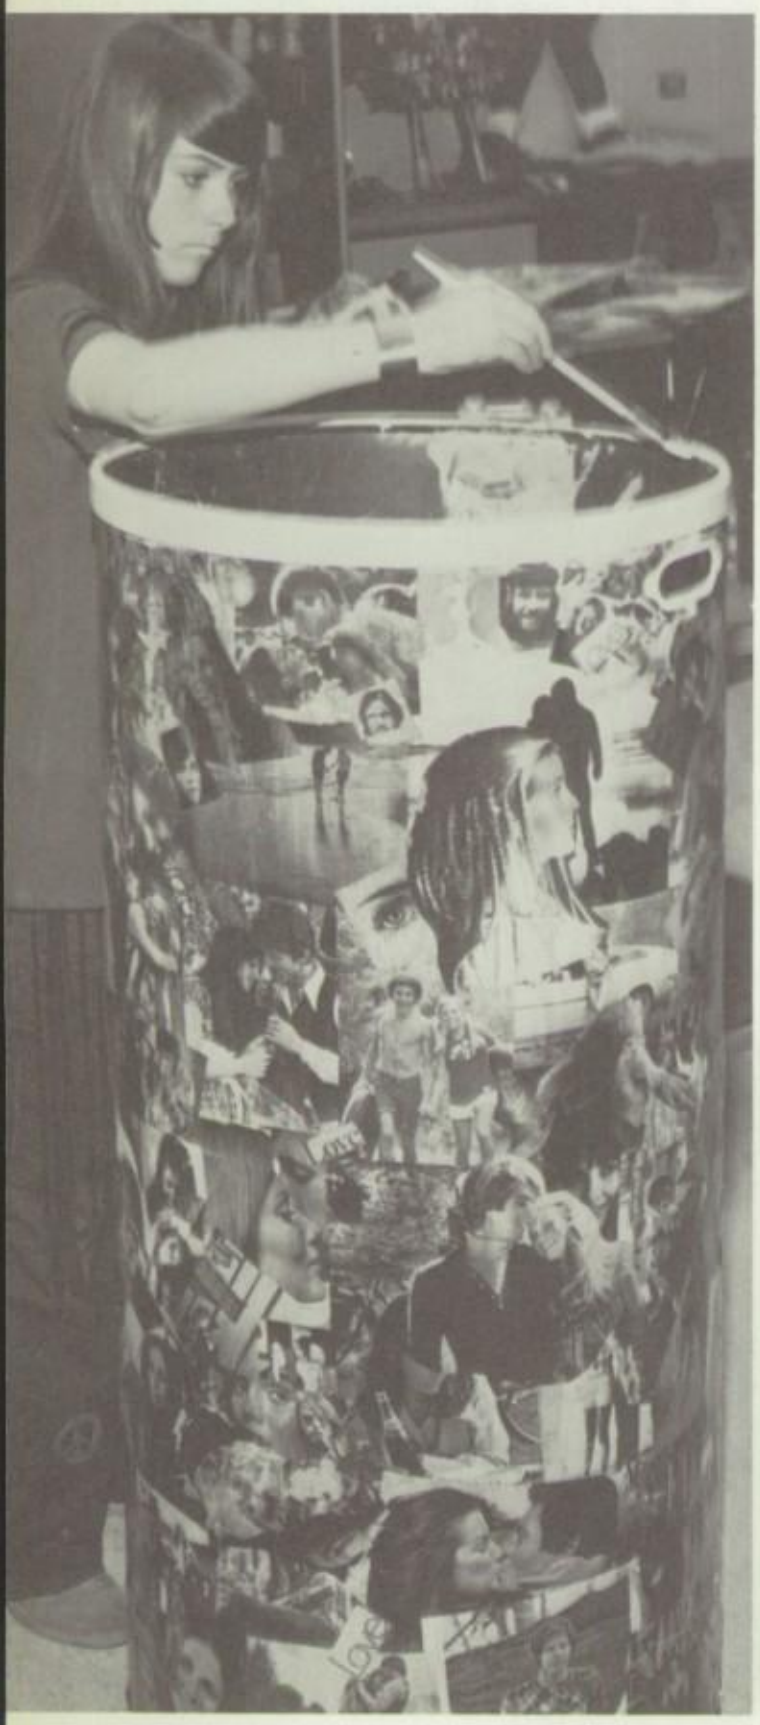
The mechanics of the press are engineered expertly by Mr. Baierwalter and Kris Berger.

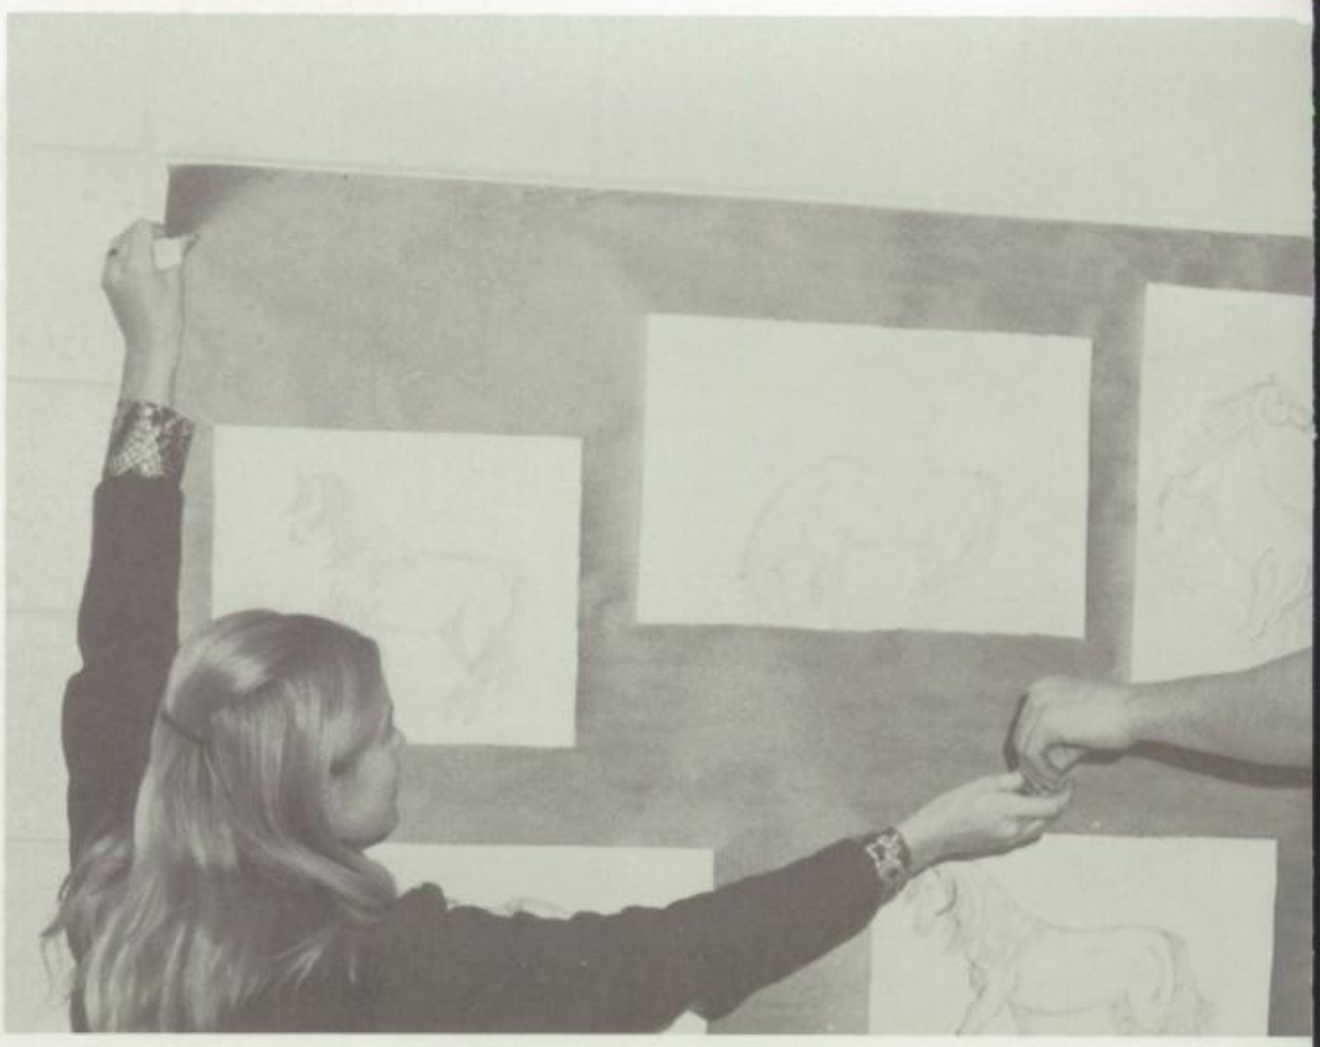
Cultural classes develop appreciation for arts

Two cultural classes at Triton are arts and music. The junior high students are required to take these courses.

In music class they learn the different eras and composers of music. The class members put music ideas on flash cards and share them with their classmates.

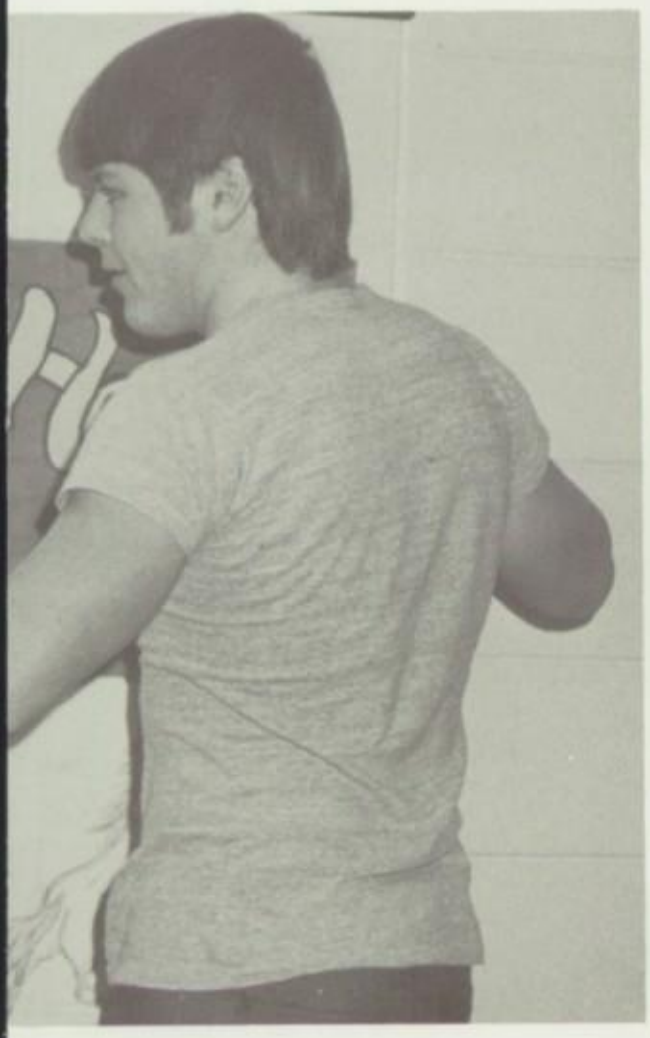
The art classes displayed their projects in the display cases for the enjoyment of the entire school.





Mindy Smith finds meaning in art as she displays her talent by making a wastebasket collage.

Little does anyone know but a mad scientist, alias Jay McClarnon, is busy drawing up a new experiment in art.



The straight line of the bricks sure is helpful when you're hanging something up, isn't it Mrs. McConkey and Eric Gard?

Mr. Dowdy gives some helpful hints to the eighth grade girls.

Mr. Lambert, student director, encourages Jr. High music students to sing out.

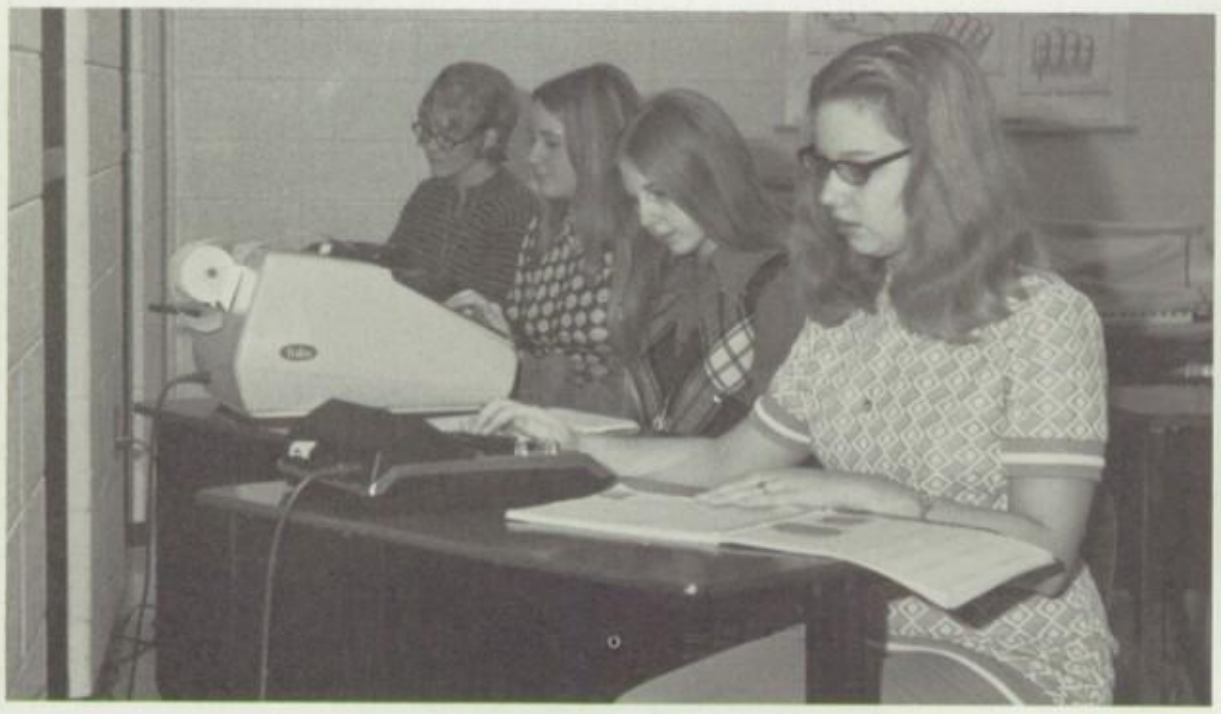
Business constructs foundation for future

A large percent of THS students are enrolled in the business curriculum. Office practice, bookkeeping, and recordkeeping all require working on practice sets.

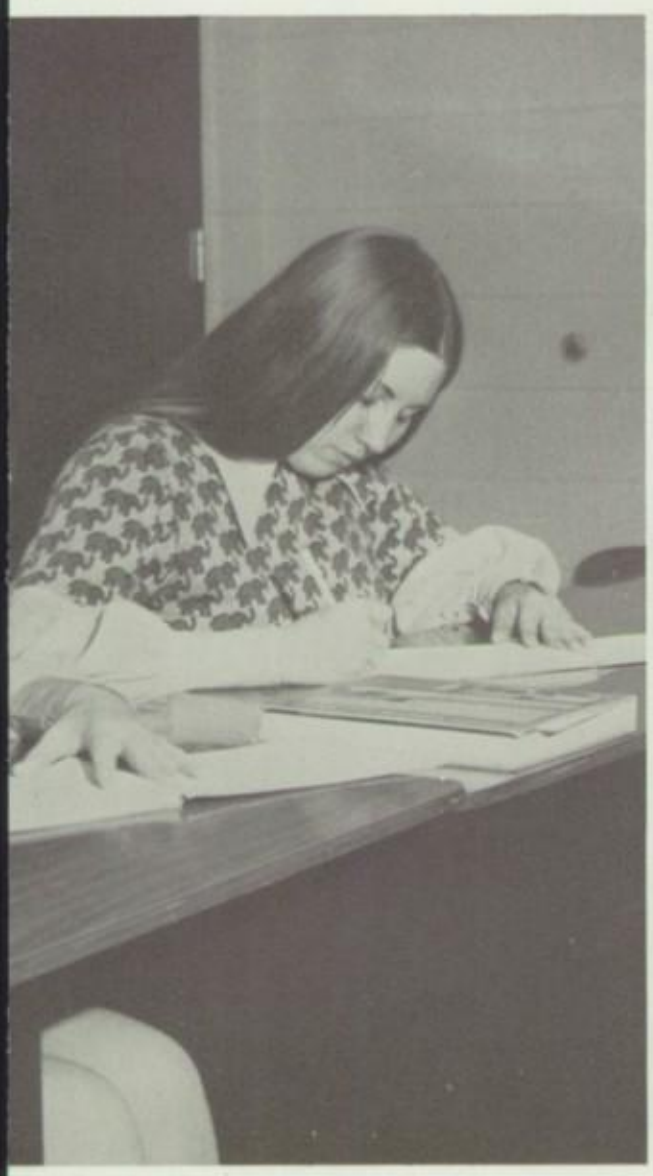
Recordkeeping, a new subject this year, has 51 students enrolled.

The business classes went on a field trip to Ft. Wayne, touring Lincoln Life Insurance Company and the I. U. General and Technical School.

Busy figuring up their totals this senior foursome works diligently in office practice.



Oblivious to their surroundings, these Bookkeeping I students silently work on their practice sets.



J. Surface and C. Borkholder combine concentration and coordination as they transcribe tapes in shorthand class.

Completely involved in his manuscript, B. Becknell shows that being the only boy in Typing II isn't all that distracting.

Silence prevails as this Typing I class races against the clock in a timed writing.

Science classes probe the depths of the future

Earth Science classes studied the universe, atmosphere, and materials that make up the earth.

Health classes basically studied about the various parts of the body. They, however, spent two weeks discussing nuclear attacks and natural disasters.

Biology, through experiments, dissections, and discussions learned about life.

Chemistry classes studied molecules and applied this in their lab studies.

Joining the faculty of THS at mid-year, Mr. Wittaker brought many new ideas and concepts to the science department.

K. Baker, S. Young, P. Sellers, and J. Wanemaker are all taking a "birds eye view" of the planetarium equipment.

The fact that affairs of the heart concern freshmen too is proven by R. Lindsay, R. Elliott, and J. Vander Stel.

Greg Scott and Brad Sellers work goggle-eyed over their chemistry experiment.

Searching into an amazing sector of biology, Mike Leiter and Leigh Sellers discover the existence of microbes.

Football squad conquers foes for a winning season

Triton's 1971 Varsity Football Squad under the direction of Coach Charles Smith, powerhoused onto a total of five wins, three losses, and one tie.

The 1971 team consisted of eight seniors, nine juniors, and three sophomores. The three co-captains were Max Trowbridge, Dan Sharpe, and Dennis Kuhn. At the end of the season all of the players joined in to present the following awards to their fellow teammates: Most Valuable Player—Dan Sharpe, Most Valuable Lineman—Gary Enders, Player with the Most Tackle Points—Dennis Kuhn, and Most Valuable Back—Dan Sharpe. Kurt Danner, Gary Enders, and Dan Sharpe received All Northern Indiana Honorable Mentions.

Coach Sam Davis' 1971 "B" Team football squad charged onward to a record of four wins, two losses, and one tie.

The team was led on offense by Brad Beagle who gained an average of 81.2 yards per game.

The Blackford brothers, Steve and Ken, led the defense with Rich Bailey and Mike Gordon close behind.

It is felt by Coach Davis that one of the many highlights of the '71 season came when Ernie Vuittonet scored a 33 yard touchdown against North Liberty.

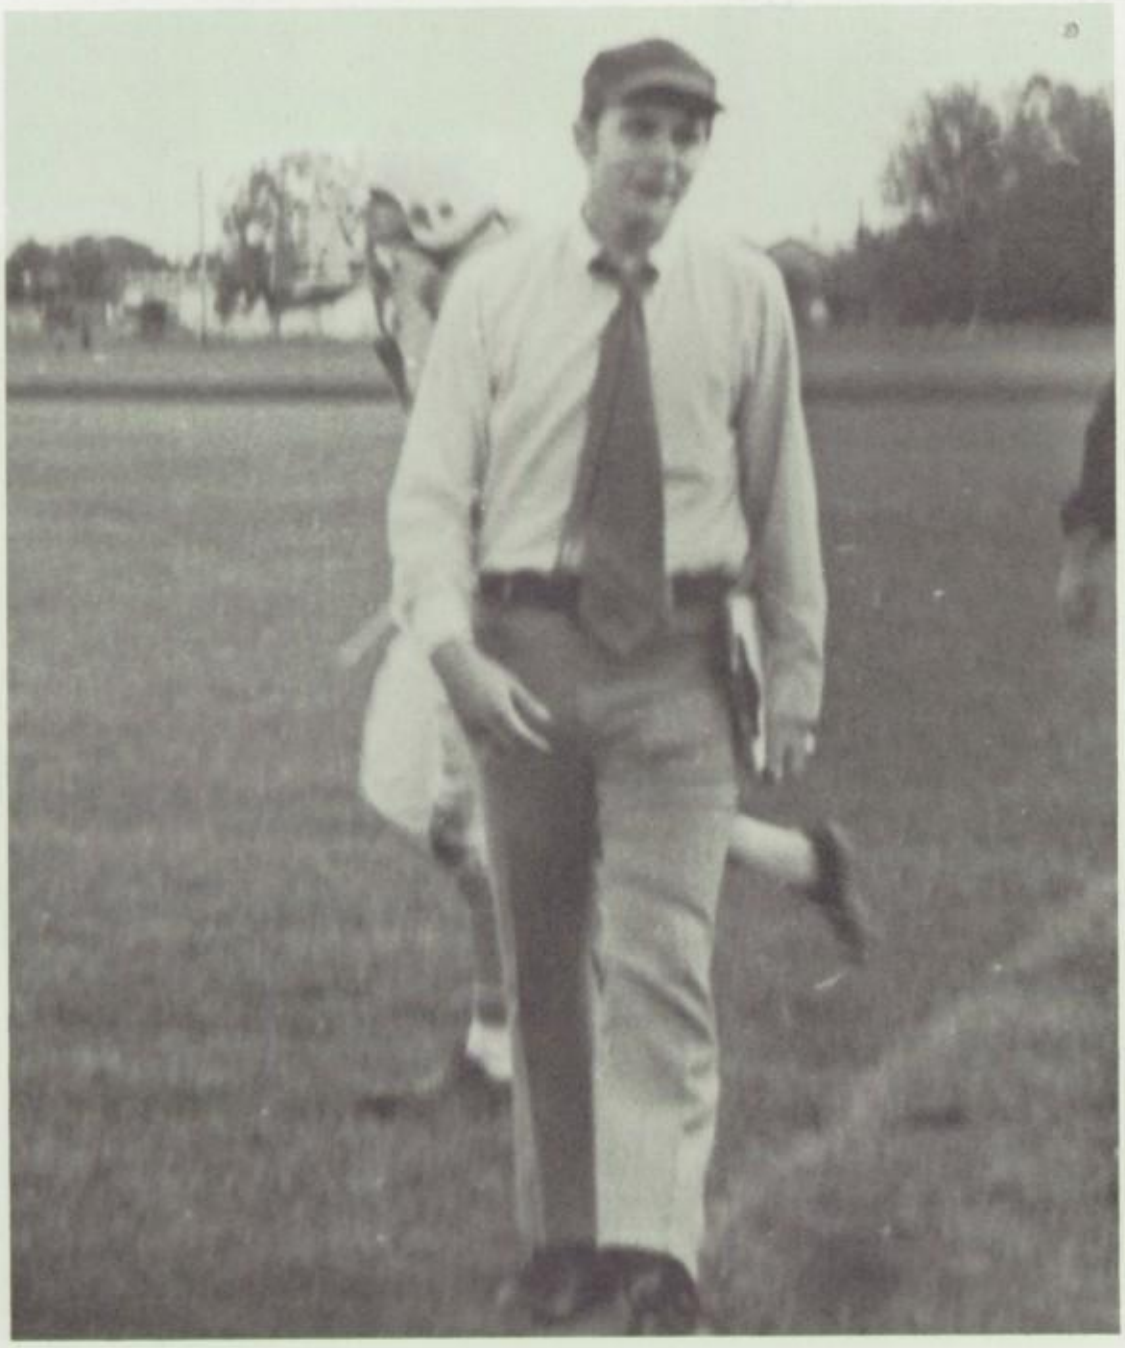
Tiny Triton Trojans triumph over opposing foes



The year 1971 held the first winning football season for Triton's Tiny Trojans. Guided by Coaches Scott Griffey and David Shively the 7th and 8th graders chalked up a record of three wins, one loss, and two ties, thus erasing the records of the opposing teams. All of the other teams except South Whitley had established perfect records until being overpowered by the Trojans. It is felt by Coach Shively that the Nappanee game was perhaps the most difficult. The Trojans, behind at half-time, gathered strength to tie the game 14-14 by the end of the last quarter.

Coach Shively believes that the 29 7th graders and 22 8th graders that made up the team of 51 will all have a very promising football future.

Harriers find that a 4-11 season is not winning

The 1971 cross country season proved a little dismal for the harriers. Many boys' times improved, but not in time to help the team have a winning season. They, however, did see four victories by these extra efforts.

Mike Koontz, the top runner, placed in the New Prairie Invitational, and also at the Elkhart Sectional.

The B-team proved that individual effort makes teamwork. They won the County Cross Country meet with their team effort.

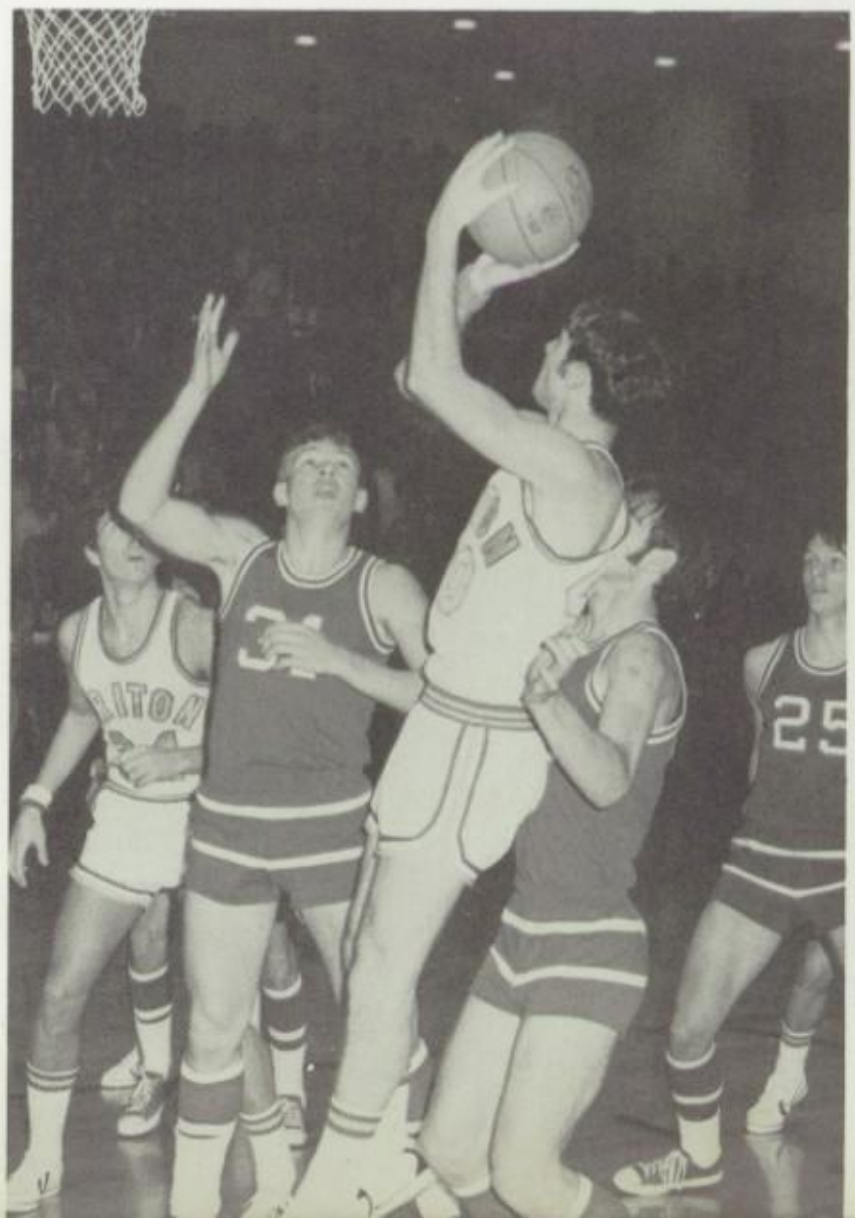
Triton's varsity squad capture conference title

Larry McConkey proved highly successful in his first year at the head of the Trojan Varsity. The Trojans opened the season by defeating Bremen in a double overtime. The Trojans hosted their second holiday tourney, in which they defeated Akron in the final game to take the tourney title. The team went on to break Rochester's 25 home game winning streak by beating them in an overtime.

The varsity men captured their first title as conference champs. They set many new records and scored an average of 81 points per game for the season. In the sectional battle the Trojans fell to Wawasee in the first game. Dan Sharpe and Rich Rhodes served as co-captains and they also shared the most valuable player award.

Brad Sellers is given a lift-up by one of the opposing team members as he shoots for two more points.



Rudy Glingle climbs down from the ladder after attaining success at Triton's Holiday Tourney.

Pitting his determination against the opposition, Mike Koontz BANS the opponent, but fails to tell us his SECRET of basketball success.

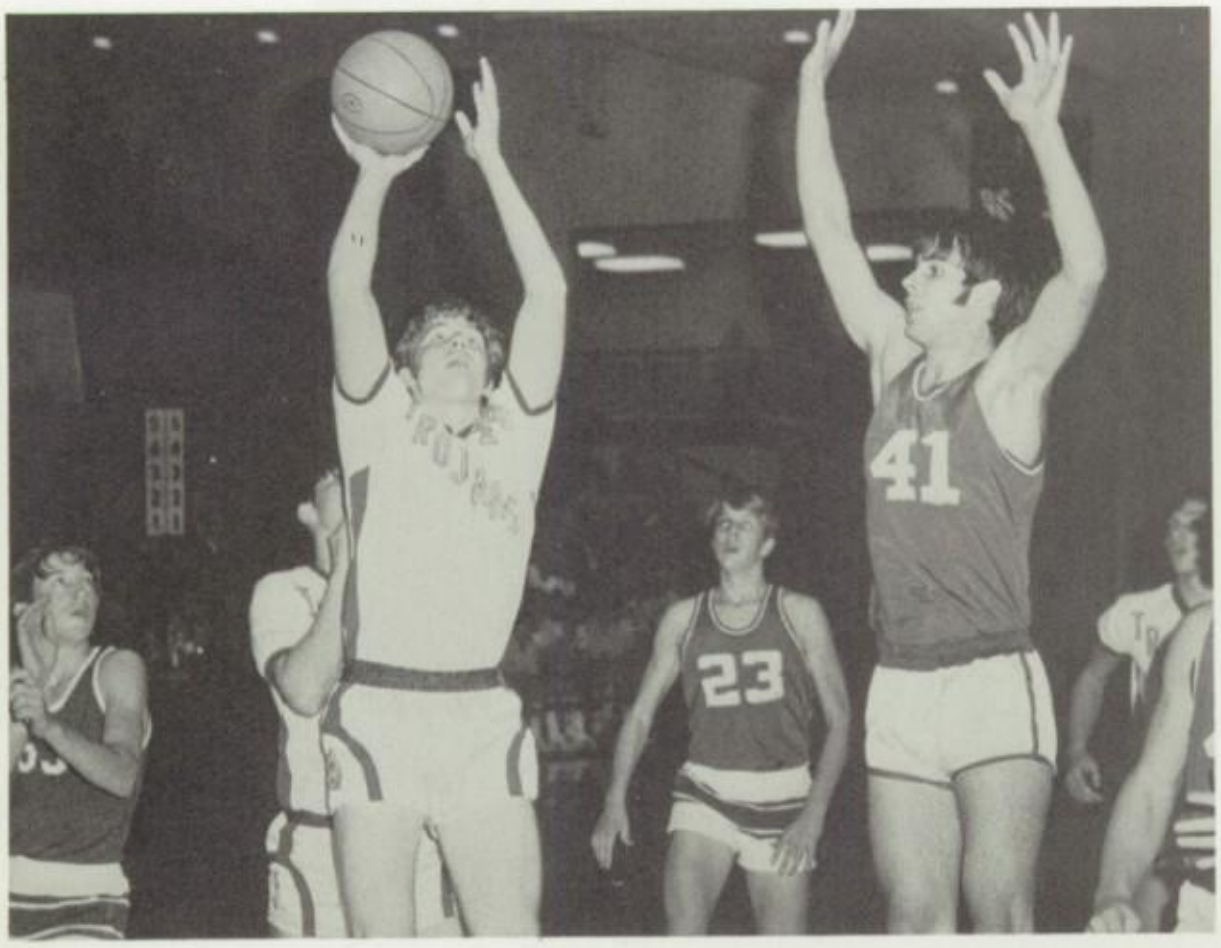
B-team emerges to meet many new challenges



Frenger's opponent is unable to hold this fierce Triton Trojan as Frenger scores two points.

Although many games were lost, the smaller sized B-team greatly improved as the season progressed. The Trojans finished the season 3-15 under Coach Scott Griffey. They defeated John Glenn, Northfield, and North Miami during the season. Pete Frenger, Ken Blackford, John Reichert, Jerry Neidigh, and Tony Watkins were the outstanding players of the season.

Eighth grade basketball boys strive hard to gain possession of a loose ball.

In their first year of organized basketball the seventh grade team started with a 28-19 victory over John Glenn. They finished the season with a 9-5 record. They also placed second in the Milford tourney. They averaged 37 points per game and scored 21 points in one quarter in one game. The 7th grade's outlook is very good, and the boys are looking forward to upholding their record.

The eighth grade record for the '71-'72 season was 4-10. A few of the highlights of the season were the smaller Trojans' victory over undefeated Warsaw 41-36, and the definite defeat of Argos by a score of 59-35, in which 13 different Triton cagers scored.

Intramural program offers variety of sports

Flag football, cross country, and basketball went together to make the 1971-72 intramural program. The boys who participated enjoyed flag football every Tuesday and Thursday after school during the fall months. One cross country meet was held in which three boys participated. Six different teams were created for the basketball season. Each team played ten regular season games. At the end of the season a tourney was held in which Team Two captured the title of intramural champs. Mr. Robert King headed the intramural program.

Matted Grapplers finish season 4-8

Coach Davis' young grapplers completed a 4-8 season. With only one senior, Kent Askins, on the team the record encourages a promising squad next year. Placing third in the 4-way tourney, second in the conference, and fifth in the sectional took individual effort along with team work.

Two junior grapplers, Tony Lozier and James Erwin placed fourth in the regional. Greg Scott and James Erwin, co-captains, were honored by team members by sharing the Most Valuable Wrestler award.

The reserve team completed a winning record of 7-3-1. Devin Delap had 7 pins out of 10 matches for this team. Ed Rock also set the record pin of 17 seconds.

After three weeks of training the 7th and 8th grade wrestling teams placed fifth in the Warsaw Jr. High tourney.

Cindermen net wins; qualify one for state meet

Triton's track team finished with the best season yet. They were defeated by Bremen early in the season, but came back to defeat Plymouth and Goshen in a three way meet. After capturing the Rochester Relays, Triton's track men took second in their home sectional. High scorers for the year were Dan Sharpe, Max Trowbridge, Rick Bessinger, and Mike Koontz.

Athletes awarded for outstanding achievements

Several athletes were honored on awards day for their contributions in various sports. Dan Sharpe was named the most valuable athlete of the year. Richard Rhodes won the playmaker award, and John Reichert received recognition for golf. Mike Koontz was given the award for being the most valuable cross-country runner. Dan Sharpe was awarded the most valuable track athlete award.

Judges' decision finalizes '72 Jr. Miss winners

The talents of the eleven 1972 Junior Miss contestants exhibited varied skills. The presentations ranged from a feeble old woman to an exhuberant dance routine, "The Good Ship Lollipop" to "Seventy-Six Trombones," and many other musical and interpretive presentations.

Awards presented: Poise and Appearance, Jo Ann Ames; Scholastic Aptitude, Nancy Faulkner; Youth Fitness, Luce Shively; and Creating and Performing Arts, Sandy Chenoweth.

The audience's suspense was subdued as Nancy Faulkner was announced first runner-up and as Sandy Chenoweth was crowned 1972 Junior Miss.

A reversal of Cinderella Jo Ann Ames turns herself into a sweep and sings "Chim Chim Cheree."

1972 Junior Miss, Sandy Chenoweth flashes a radiant smile to the audience after being crowned.

"Are you going to the parade?" questions Nancy Faulkner as she anticipates the event.

Lost choppers don't interfere with Donna Baker's original monologue at the Junior Miss pageant.

Senior candidate, India Roy, remains in a daze after being crowned 1972 Homecoming Queen.

Excitement flashes through the stands as Ruth Lindsey and escort begin the parade of candidates.

Runners up Luce Shively and Debbie Secrist await the crowning of the Homecoming queen.

The first game of the basketball season featured Triton's 1972 Homecoming. India Roy was crowned Homecoming Queen by Janet Robinson, 1971 queen, between games at the Laville game. First runner-up was Luce Shively. An unusual situation occurred this year, two girls tied for second runner-up. They were junior Deb Secrist, and sophomore Rita Disher.

Rick Bessinger emceed the coronation and the junior attendants were Lori Pyle and Mark Clauss.

To celebrate the victorious Homecoming the senior class sponsored a dance in the cafeteria featuring Ecaep and Evol.

Their jobs completed Dave Ross, Gary Enders, Lori Pyle, Mark Clauss, and Janet Robinson watch the close of the Homecoming ceremony.

HOMECOMING CANDIDATES: Ruth Ann Lindsey, Rita Disher, Luce Shively, India Roy, Debbie Secrist, Char Mason, Tammy Carter, Eve Welty

Drama Club play produced mixed emotions

Mrs. Teran, sponsor of the Speech and Drama Club, launched the club by directing the play, CHEAPER BY THE DOZEN. The play is the true story of a family with 12 children, one dog, and a father who is an expert on efficiency. He endeavors to apply motion study to everything from taking a bath to saving electricity.

The play had a cast of 9 boys and 7 girls, with a crew of 12 under the direction of James Erwin.

"Why, yes, I'd love to go to the drugstore, Jo," breathes Anne, (Lou Welty) as her sisters look on.

Father, Jeff Heck, complains to his wife, Nancy Faulkner, that he just doesn't understand high school girls.

"Pull the bow; hit the apple," says Joe Scales as he explains his William Tell tie.

The military line-up of children react as their father describes his next "project".

Finian's Rainbow successful on two nights

An Irishman and his daughter from Glocca Morra bring changes to America. Finian steals a crock of gold from a leprechaun, Og, and leads the people to believe they have gold in the ground. Sharon falls in love with Woody, while Og who is secretly in love with Sharon falls for "Susan the Silent."

The musical which was produced in five weeks, the shortest time ever, was directed by Mr. Dowdy.

Fearful of becoming mortal, Og tells Finian of his doom and gloom.

Finian explains the advantages of ordering whatever you like from Shears and Robust.

Woody, Sharon, and chorus exclaim over the telegram proclaiming gold in Rainbow Valley.

Woody sings of his love for Sharon by the light of the "Old Devil Moon."

"Susan the Silent" dances to tell the chorus not to worry because Woody's comin'.

"Isle of Paradise" marks the prom theme of '72

Approximately 100 couples enjoyed the decorations and atmosphere that centered around the Prom theme "Isle of Paradise." Prom goers enjoyed dancing to the music of the bands, Pete Fruehauf and Roosevelt Johnson and the Seven Seas. The refreshments of Nectar of Paradise and Tropical Dream Cake were served by freshmen Kay Church, Cindy Sell, Pam Hensley, Sallie Anderson, Ruth Lindsey, Donna Duff, and Kathy Dennie.

Faith Schaetzle closes her eyes and taste-tests the tropical dream cake.

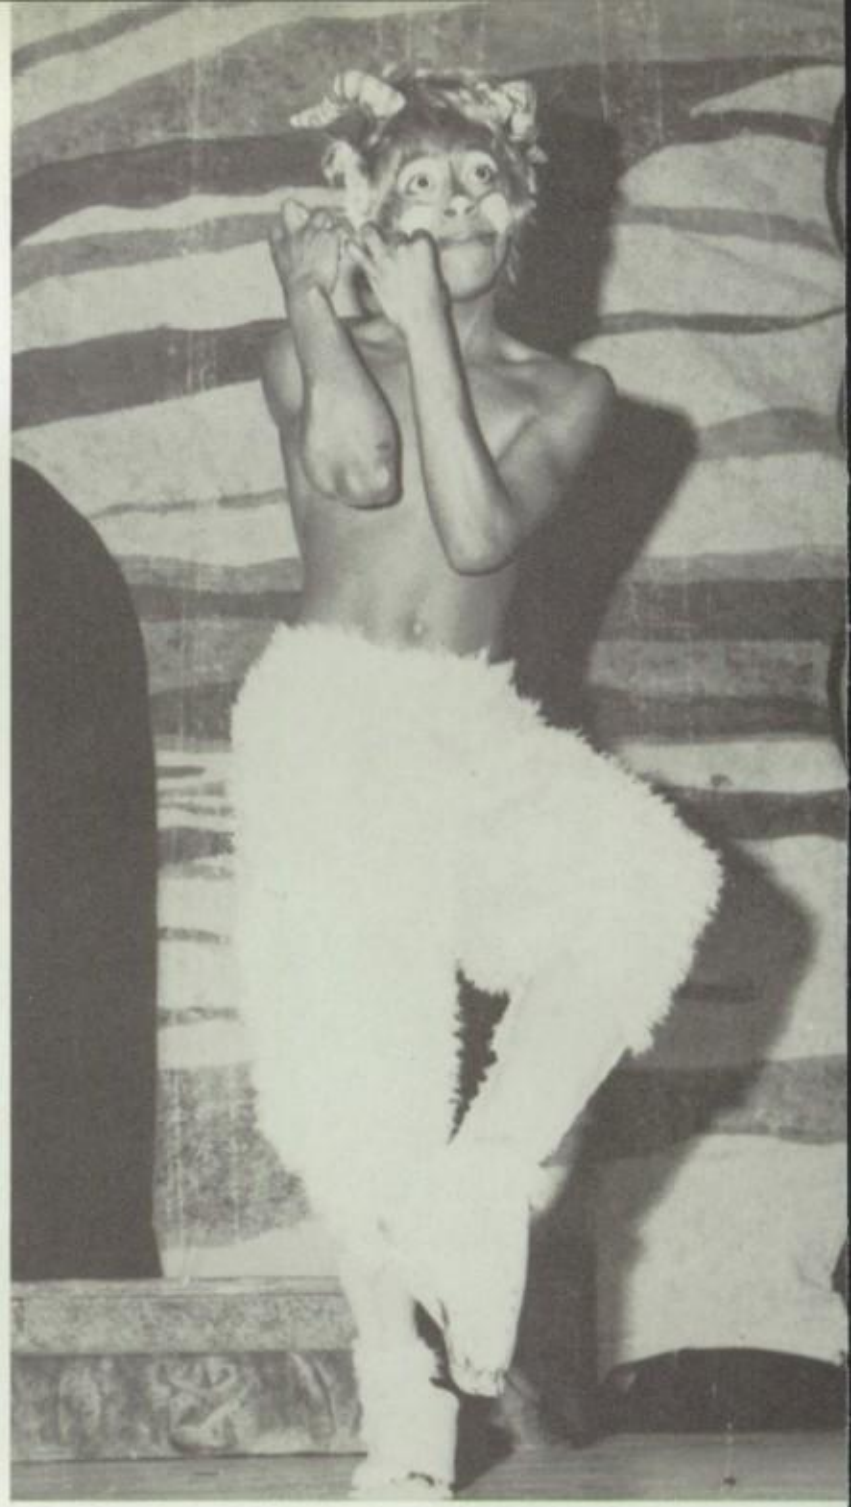
This happy foursome, Dean Sauer, Cindy Blue, Gary Enders, and Kim Fuzy seem enthusiastic about the evening.

Prom Queen and King, Ginger White and Dan Sharpe, beam radiantly after their coronation.

Beginning the Prom festivities, Brad Gephart and Dana Roy lead in the Grand March.

Music and dance were an enjoyable part of an assembly entitled, "The Grouch" put on by Indiana State University.

An insane asylum is the setting for "The Curious Savage", a play by the LaVille High School Drama Department.



Two bedraggled merchants, tired from Christmas business transactions, hobble off in the Johnny Carson Christmas skit.

After hours of planning, the cheerleaders opened the assembly programs early in the fall by presenting "This is Your Life, Charlie Smith". A teddy bear filled with bonds was the subject matter of the play, "The Curious Savage", presented by the LaVille Drama Club. Another play enjoyed by the THS students was "The Grouch," presented by the I. S. U. Drama Department.

Two separate films, featuring Art Linkletter, were shown. These films helped to explain the hazards of drugs. Several students participated in the Christmas program which offered a variety of both humorous and serious selections. To end the year an awards assembly was held to honor the achievements of the students.

Assemblies informative and entertaining

Santa Claus (Mr. Griffy) and his jolly green elves (Max Trowbridge and Mike Koontz) brought a life-sized Christmas gift for Miss Besson.

Coach Charlie Smith greets his wife from the pages of Triton's own production of, "This Is Your Life".

FFA SWEETHEART CONTESTANTS: S. Kitchen, L. Grimm, C. Cretcher, A. Sharkey, C. Blue, R. Reichert, K. Bailey, D. Carlberg, R. Sill

James Erwin congratulates Sandy Kitchen as he announces her winner of the FFA Sweetheart contest.

Guys 'n gals promote courtesy and sweetheart

The FHA annual courtesy dance was held following the Nappanee basketball game. Cindy Sell and Ernie Eyrich were crowned courtesy princess and prince. Jo Ann Ames and Denny Kuhn were crowned courtesy queen and king.

Nine girl vied for the title of FFA Sweetheart. Sandy Kitchen won the title with her presentation of love songs. Roxanne Reichert captured the title of runner-up with a comedy skit called "Playmate".

LAIS BARQUERRO TREJOS

Lais is a citizen of San Jose, Costa Rica. She lived with Rev. and Mrs. Anderson of Etna Green. Lais thinks the United States is a big beautiful country. She has enjoyed participating in several extra activities at Triton as well as singing in concert choir.

Lais has traveled in five other states besides Indiana. She listed her favorite school subject as sociology, her favorite movie as M.A.S.H. Lais's future plans are to become a teacher and to travel.

Foreign students exchange basic ideas

CARLOS HENRIQUE MEYERS

Carlos came to Triton at the beginning of the second semester. He lived in Tippecanoe Township. Carlos is from Belo Horizonte, Brazil and is a member of Youth for Understanding. Among the things he enjoys are soccer, r e a d i n g, swimming, and skiing.

Carlos has found Triton more of a home environment than that of Brazilian schools. He participated in track at Triton, and has talked about his country in front of many types of audiences.

Efforts and achievements recognized by awards

On awards day thirty-eight scholarships and awards were presented to different students. Valedictorian Alice Ross and salutatorian Pat Silveus were recognized for their academic achievements.

Five high school students were recognized for their achievements in various subjects. Nancy Faulkner earned the English award; Larry Sellers, the math award; and Gene Neyhart, the social studies award. Pat Silveus received the science award and Marsha Stackhouse earned the language award.

Mrs. Teran gave drama awards to Jamie Erwin, Nancy Faulkner, and Roxanne Reichert.

Outstanding senior bandsmen, Nancy Faulkner, Larry Sellers, and John Faulkner accept their awards.

On behalf of the cheerleaders and the pep block Lou Welty presents Larry Sellers with the "Most Spirited Senior" award.

The climax of three and one-half years of extensive student, faculty, and community effort was realized when the Triton Junior-Senior School received official notification that it had been accepted as a member of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

The honor was bestowed on the school at the annual meeting of the North Central Assn. in Chicago. Howard Liggett, principal, attended the meeting and received the membership plaque from its president, Albert Pugsley, president, Youngstown State University, Youngstown, O.

Pep club makes the noise for basketball boys

Numbering 150, the Triton pep block consisted of both junior and senior high students. New yells were used by the pep block as well as the old. The boys' pep block helped to give a deep tone to some of the yells.

A loyal girls' pep block backs its team with outstretched arms.

"Oh goody, goody" exclaims Nancy Faulkner as she watches the mighty Trojans tromp on another team.

With the picture of innocence on their faces, the juniors get ready to unroll a "tear-'em-up" sign.

Being together is the happiest time of all, thinks Mr. and Mrs. Gilberth in the Speech and Drama club's presentation of "Cheaper by the Dozen."

Speech and Drama Club's presentation of "Cheaper by the Dozen" ran for two nights, March 10 and 11. The play was directed by Mrs. Teran, adviser of the club. Members who were not in the cast worked on makeup, props, and lighting.

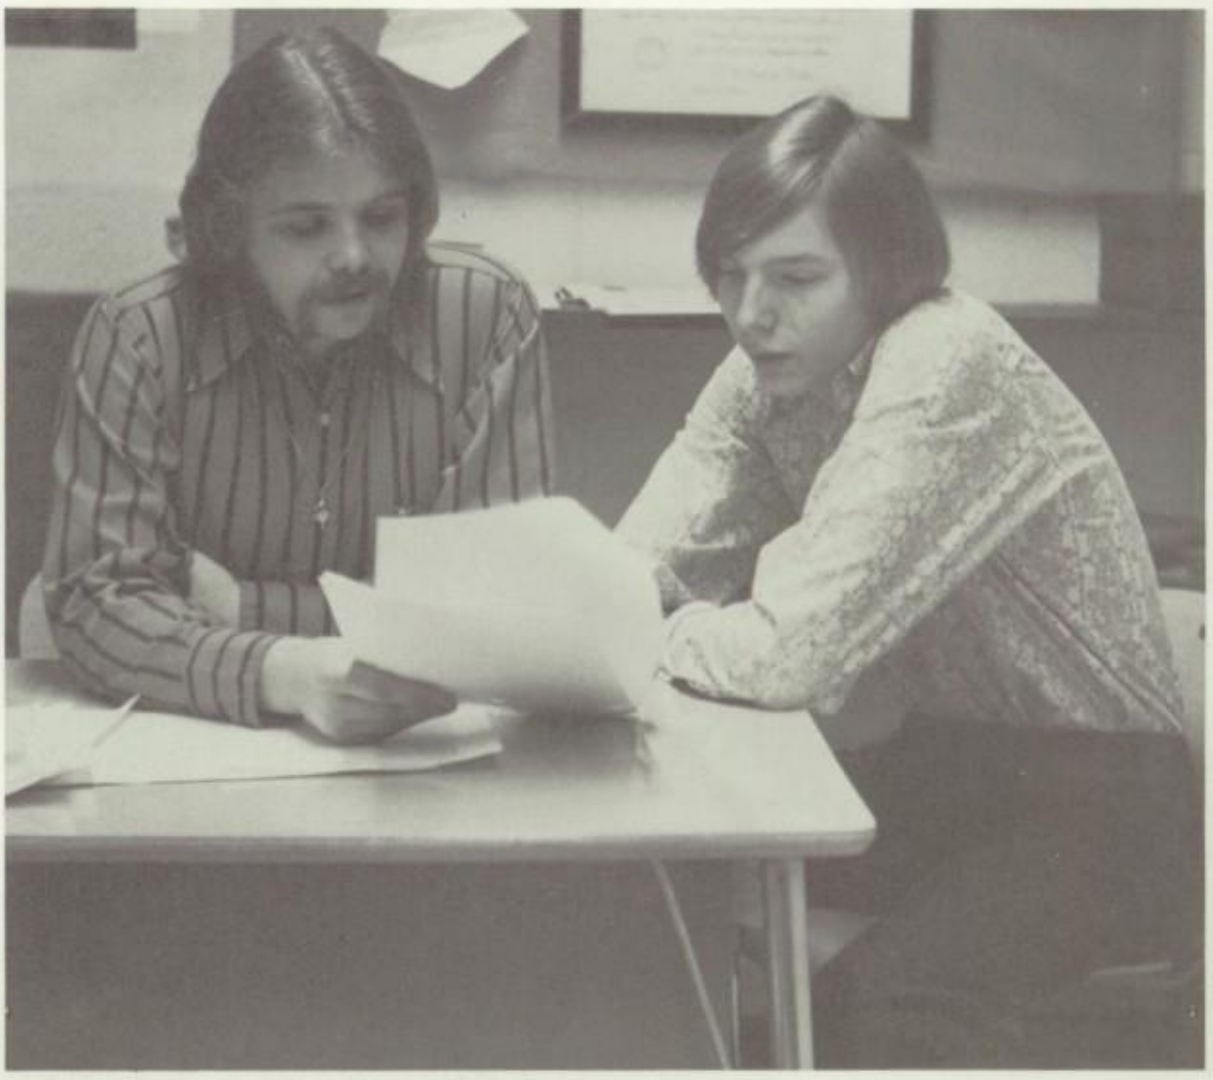
Journalists produce THS publications

The Trojan Messenger staff headed by Thom Heisler, editor, worked hard to over come many problems. Quality of content became their main concern as the year progressed.

Lack of funds and missed deadlines were two of the set backs Delta staffers had to overcome. Staffers usually meet once a week to compile their thoughts and work together to build a better yearbook.



Reviewing an article is just one of the jobs Thom Heisler and Jim Houser do in putting together a good newspaper.

FFA, FHA: Developing better tomorrows

A fondue demonstration and a talk by Carlos Myers about his home country, Brazil, were two of the programs the Future Homemakers enjoyed. Serving at the Fireman's fish fry, sponsoring a courtesy dance, and Ma, Pa, and Me night are three annual events the FHA'ers participated in.

First in ecology the Future Farmers sponsored their annual pest control contest. They also planted a maple tree on the school yard. FFA Sweetheart Contest, Parent and Son banquet, and judging contest were a few more events the boys enjoyed.

Officers, Richard Walter, Ken Blackford, Doug Workman, and Jim Reichert pause by the maple tree which the FFA donated to the school.

Education and health clubs build basics

District and state conventions were just two of the stops on the Future Teachers list of activities. Members also enjoyed a trip to Ball State. Aiding teachers was one of the ways the FTA'ers observed National Education Week.

The Health Careers Club worked hard at a program enjoyed by all. Speakers on health careers were heard at the majority of the club's programs. Members also made favors for the nursing homes in the area and toured the hospitals.

FTA'er Cindy Frenger hosted Mr. & Mrs. Gottschalk during Parent and Teacher Conference day.

S. C. and Gamma Beta Chi experiencing and learning

A back to school dance was the Student Council's first project in the fall of '72. In November, they sponsored Bundle Days to help the needy children in Appalachia. The annual Mini 500 field day rounded out the year.

Mr. Ron Smith and Mr. Locke were the advisors for the Student Council.

The Gamma Beta Chi, directed by Mrs. Booz found themselves involved in several different settings by the various books they read. Those discussed were THE STRANGER, GREAT GATSBY, BRAVE NEW WORLD, and SIDDHARTA.

Mrs. Booz hosted the group at her home to celebrate the end of the school year.

Honor clubs inspire and induct new members

Triton's honor societies busied themselves with club activities. Quill and Scroll tried to promote a better understanding of journalism. The club inducted ten new members and three probationary members. N. H. S. gathered ten new members from the junior class, four from the senior class, and fifteen from the senior class. Senior N.H.S. graduates were recognized at graduation by adding overlays to their gowns.

The concert choir tuned up this year by participating in the Choir Festival at Warsaw. The choir auditioned for two conventions, while making a LP recording which they sold. Other activities included a Christmas and Spring concert, solo and ensemble contest, and singing at commencement. The choir received three superior ratings at the NISBOVA organizations contest.

The Trojan Singers entertained area audiences on several occasions. They participated in the Swing Choir contest at Fort Wayne.

Chamber Singers provided a different kind of "mood" for the members of choir who participated in it. They provided a program of music from the 15th and 16th centuries.

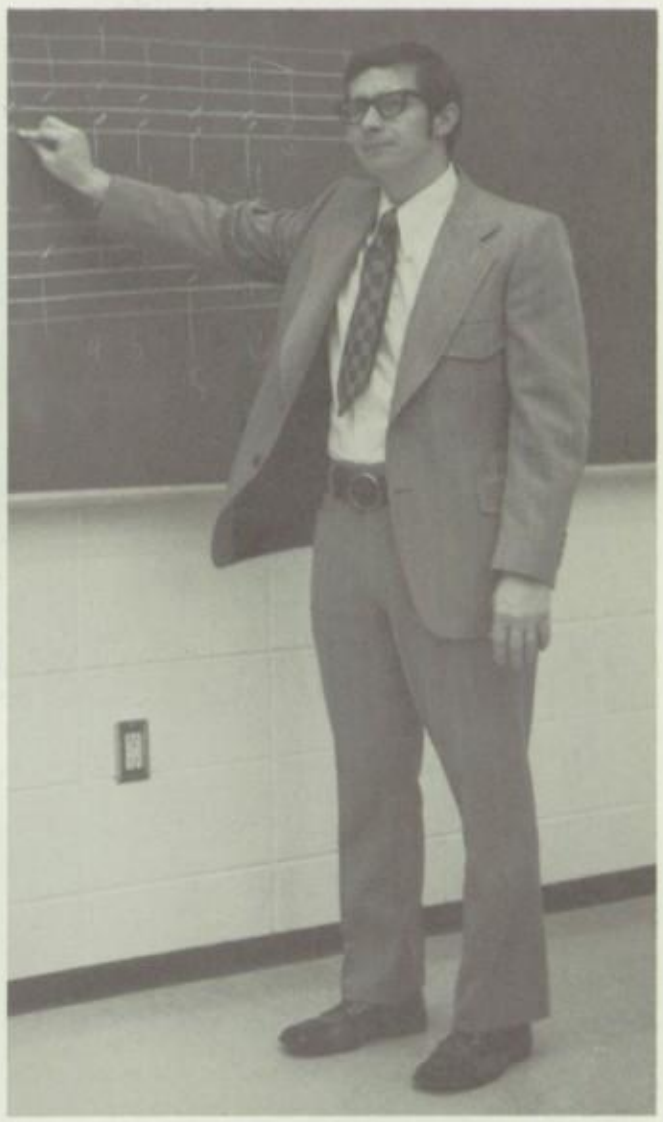
JHS choir develops high hopes for high skills

Eighth grade girls gain important and valuable experience during the many practices for solo and ensemble contest.

The annual winter and spring choral concerts aren't the only things the Jr. High choir rehearses for. They also participate in solo and ensemble contests. The Jr. High chorus works hard on the fundamentals of music, trying to build a better high school choir.

The choralaires, directed by Mr. Dowdy, entertain several times during the school year. They also perform as a group at the district music contest.



Pointing out a note and humming a pitch, Mr. Dowdy laboriously prepares the choir for a program.

From Bach to Bacharac band plays on

It's not Women's Lib, it's Miss Person that came to Triton. Miss Person, director of the band, came to Triton with some vibrant ideas. Employing these ideas, the band placed first in the Blueberry Festival. They also produced two concerts along with playing for home football and basketball games. Several individuals participated at NISBOVA solo and ensemble contest. The band also participated at organization contest.

Miss Person directs the band to great ideas and music.

Many types of bands brought melodies to THS

The Junior High Band performed in two concerts during the 1971-72 school year. The band, under the direction of Miss Person, participated in and placed second in the NISBOVA organization contest. The junior high students work hard to develop those skills needed for a successful band.

The Blue Tones Stage Band and the Dixie Land Combo were featured at both the winter and spring concerts. These groups provided swinging music with the small band sound. The Dixie Land Combo presented several programs for public groups.

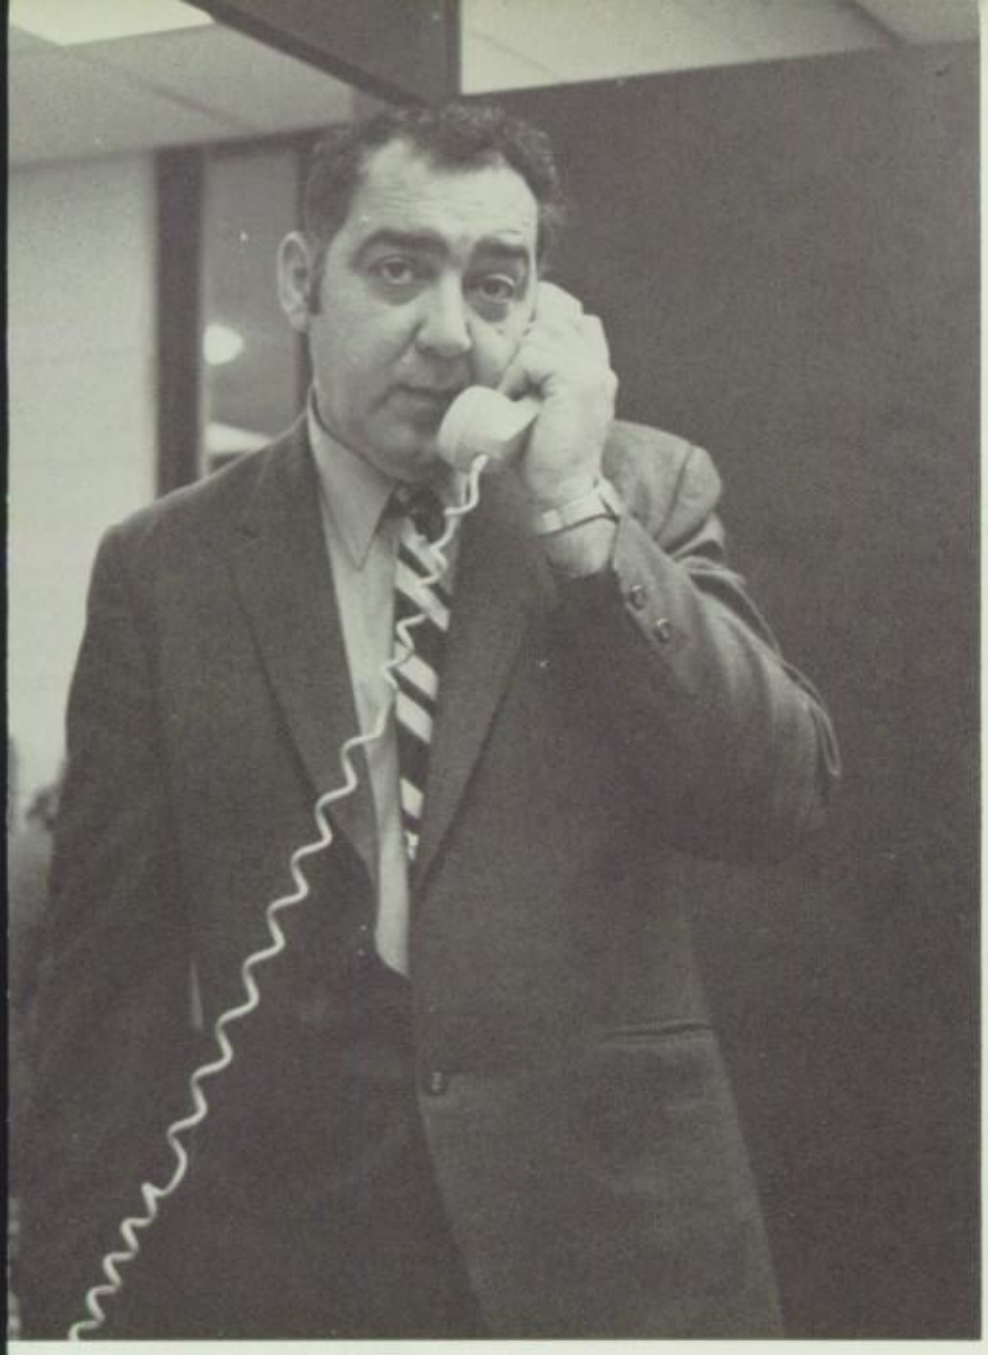
TRITON SCHOOL BOARD MEMBERS: Glenn Clauss, Howard Feldman, Ryval Fites, Hal Apple, Gene Neyhart, Wilfred Gottschalk, Gene Neidigh.

Mrs. Livengood collects lunch money at her usual duty as cashier in the cafeteria.

Mr. Richer, superintendent, relaxes for a few seconds in the solitude of his new office.



An intent listener Mr. Howard Liggett, principal, proves to be a true administrator.

Schedule conflicts are ironed out in early school days by vice principal, Mr. Howard Locke, and counselor, Mr. Kenneth Keller.

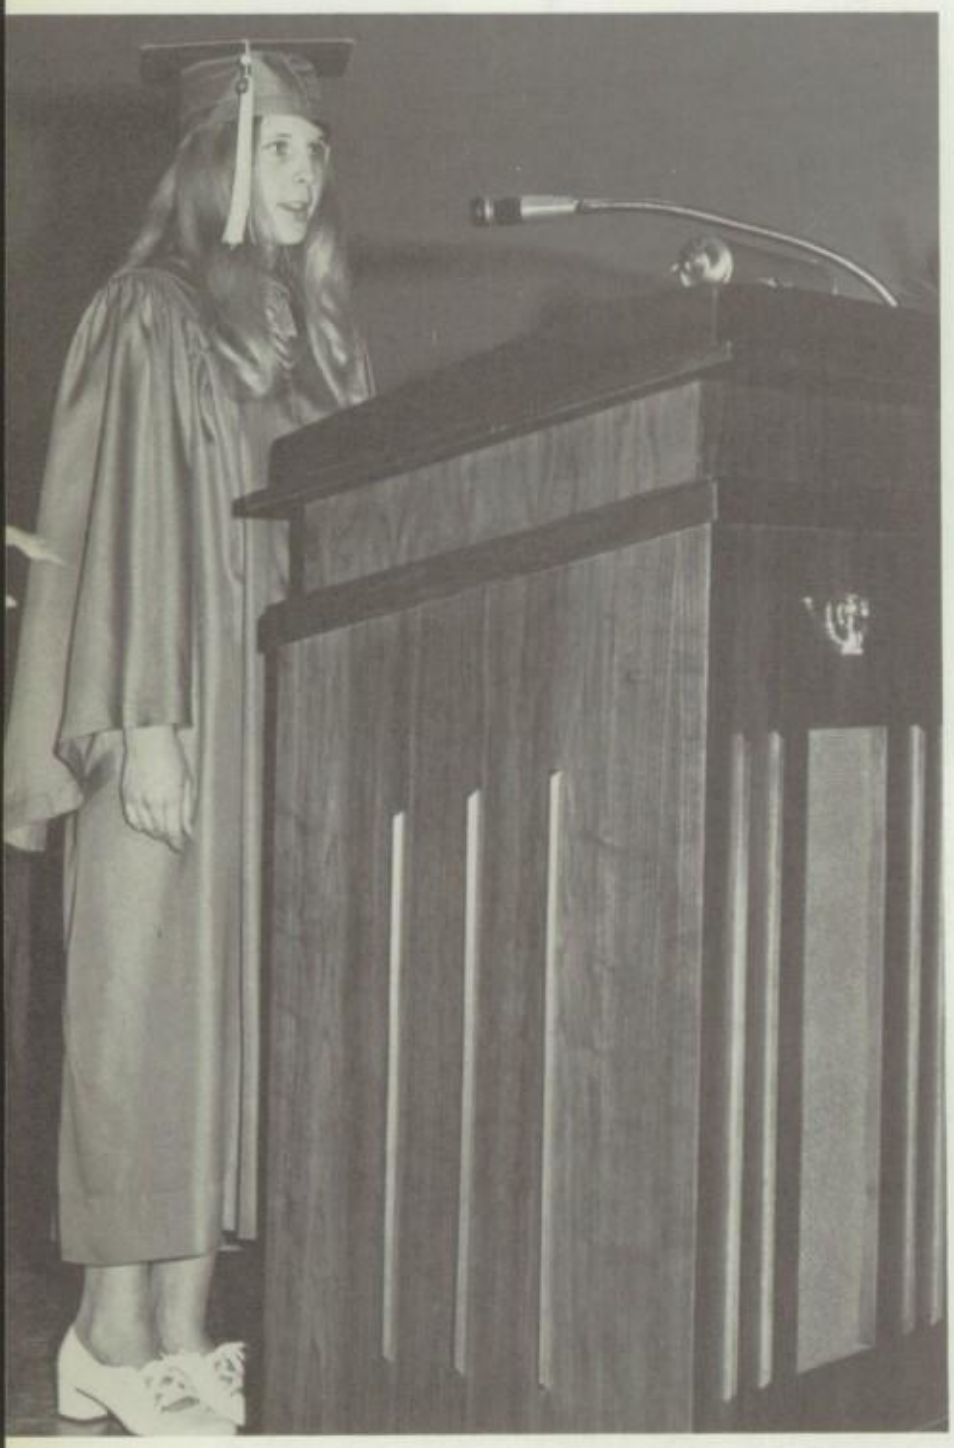
Administration staff steadies the beat of THS

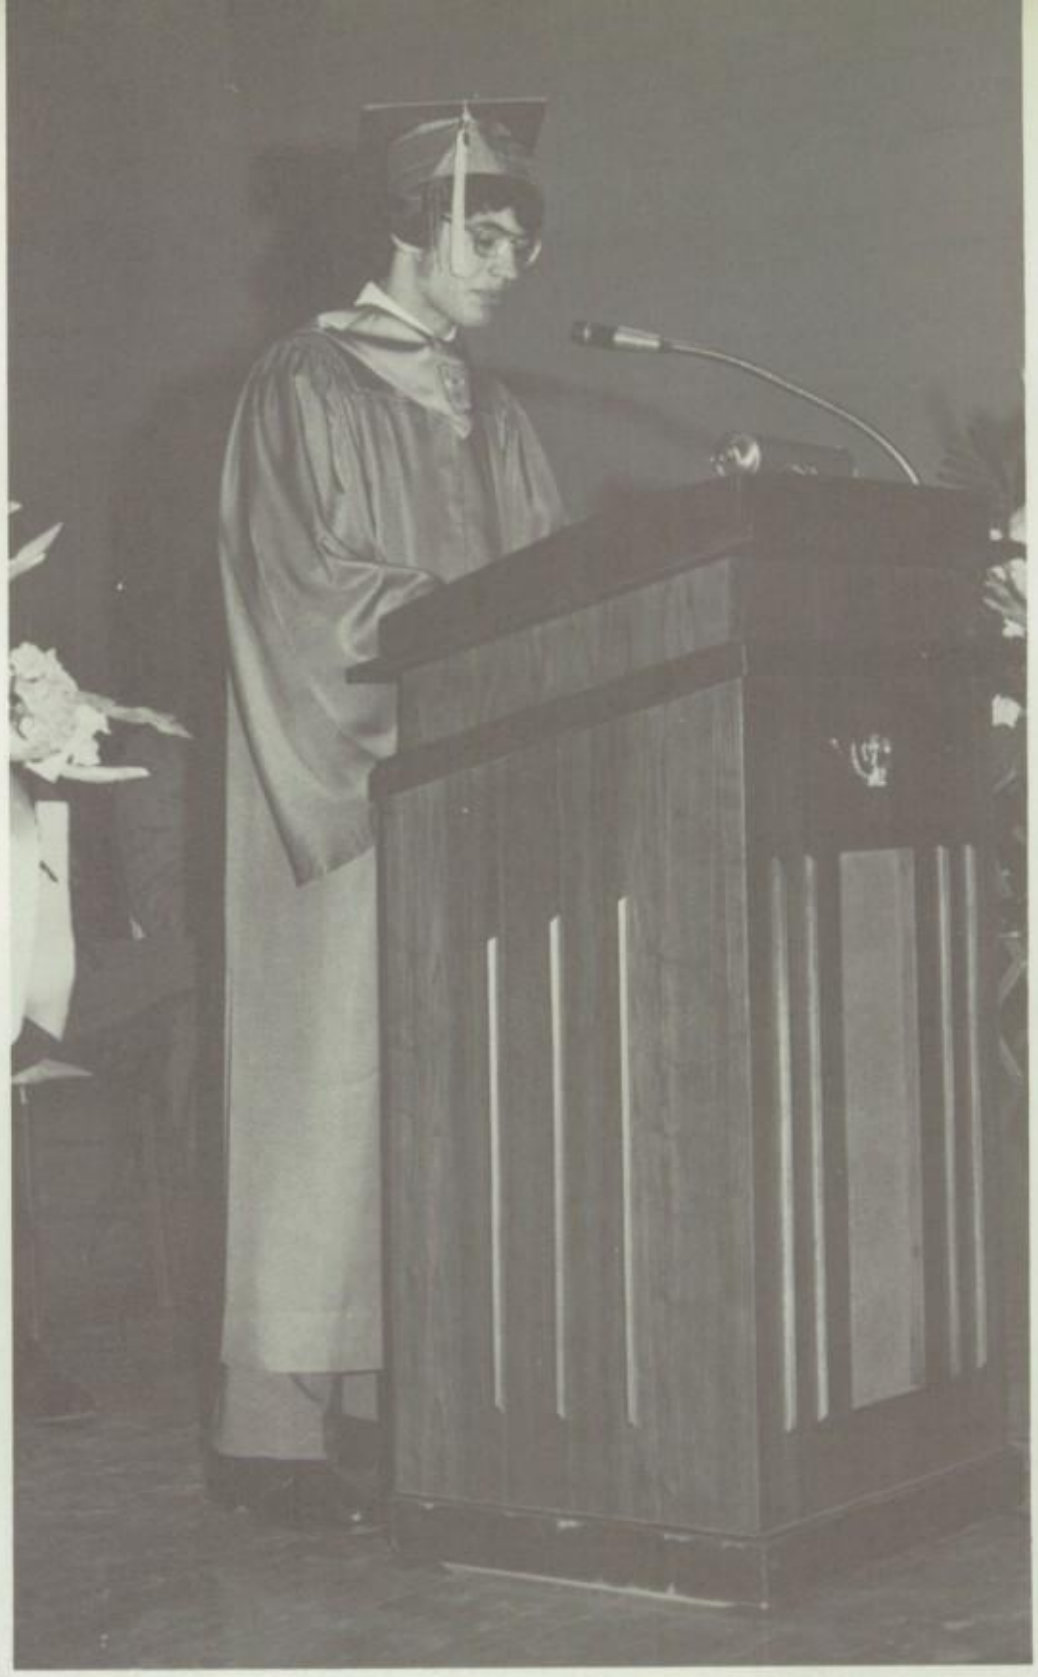
Behind her desk Mrs. Trowbridge solves many problems for THS.

Athletics and guidance counseling consumes a lot of Mr. Paul Crousore's time and desk space.

Speaking at commencement exercises salutatorian, Pat Silveus, compares the twelve years of high school to grains of sand in an hour glass.

Valedictorian, Alice Ross acknowledges those who helped her through her years of high school.





With their diplomas in hand, the seniors soon become alumni.

Futures unfold as seniors become grads

Gerry and Fred Watkins are receptive as friends wish them luck for the future.

These seniors wait with growing anticipation for their names to be called and their diplomas to be placed in their hands.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS: Gary Enders—president, Denny Kuhn—vice-president, Rich Rhodes—treasurer, Gerry Watkins—secretary.

To enjoy bowling year around visit King Pin Corner, located at 1024 West Jefferson Street, Plymouth.

I & M Bulk of Bourbon gives their congratulations to the class of "72".

Businessmen provide many services

Whether you're lucky enough to get strikes or have to settle for less, enjoy year-round bowling at KING PIN CORNER, 1024 West Jefferson Street, Plymouth.

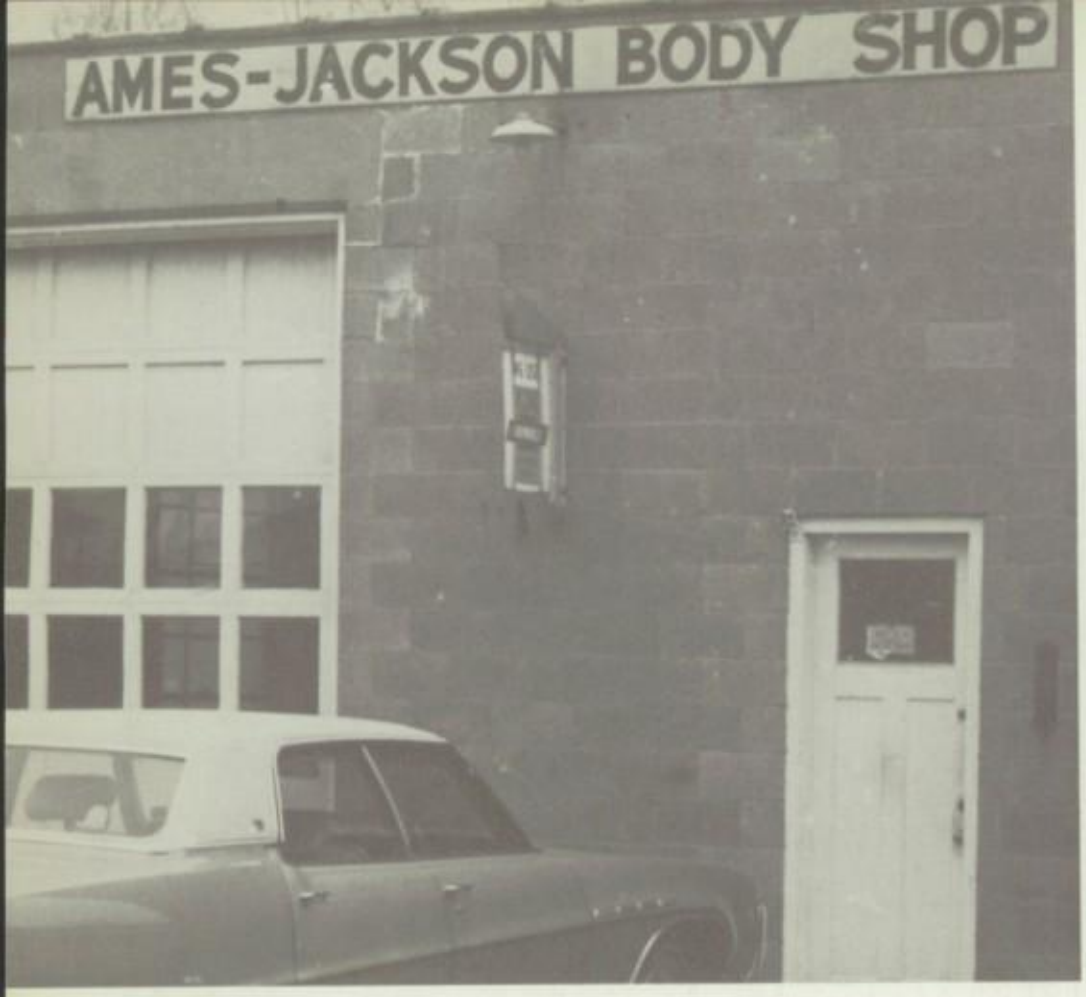
For a special touch to your home, finish with antiques. See the wide selection of articles at KRAMER ANTIQUES, 220 North Main Street, Culver.

For the best in farm truck bodies, hydraulic hoists, farm augers, and equipment contact I & M BULK EQUIPMENT SALES, INC., phone 342-3515, Bourbon.

Checking accounts, saving accounts, and all types of loans make THE FIRST STATE BANK of Bourbon the service corner that it is.

Kramer Antiques, located in downtown Culver, has in store glass, china, brass, and copper antiques. Antique furniture and clocks can also be found.

Avis Mason and Linda Grimm learn the basic principles of banking by cashing in at the First State Bank of Bourbon.



Any car repair is tackled at Ames & Jackson Collision Rebuilders of Bourbon. Give them a call.

It's so light, so creamy, you could eat a million of them, but Debby Overmyer eats just one peanut butter sandwich.

Many hours have been spent in preparation of the 1972 Delta. It is now hoped that the students will appreciate the Delta for what it really is, a history book of the 71-72 school year.

A yearbook cannot be done by one person alone, so I would like to thank those people who have worked to make a better yearbook. My thanks go to Diane Metheny for the time and effort she spent on the senior section and the index. I would like to thank Donna Fisher for lending her typing ability to the Delta. Thank you Larry Sellers for being business manager and doing a good job. I would like to thank Marsha Stackhouse for successfully completing the first elementary yearbook, The Apollo. To Sutula Studios I give a big hand for all the time and pictures they have donated to the Delta. I would also like to thank Rick Bessinger for his part in the photography.

My deepest gratitude goes to Lee Ann Weakly and Debby Overmyer for all their talents they have given to the Delta. I would like to thank them for all their time which was spent in writing and constructing the 72 Delta. My thanks goes to everyone who has helped me in any way.

Ellen Dinius
